

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

EX-CLERK WALTER C. TAYLOR FOUND GUILTY BY JURY OF ATTEMPT TO BRIBE J. A. BEALL

Chinese Reds Capture Province and Loot Missions

CAPITAL OF HUNAN PROVINCE FALLS BEFORE INVADERS

Foreign Missions Are Looted and Destroyed as Conquering Communists Overrun Changsha.

'ALL AMERICANS REPORTED SAFE

Raid Is Described as Most Serious Invasion Yet Made by Reds; Aliens Flee to Gunboats.

SHANGHAI, July 30.—(UPI)—The British North China News today says all foreign missions at Changsha, Hunan province capital, were destroyed by communists who overrun the city yesterday.

SHANGHAI, July 30.—(UPI)—Overrun by a communist horde, the rich city of Changsha, capital of Hunan province, today was systematically sacked and burned by the invaders while foreign warships removed their nationals to safety.

STRONGHOLD, July 30.—(UPI)—Overrun by a communist horde, the rich city of Changsha, capital of Hunan province, today was systematically sacked and burned by the invaders while foreign warships removed their nationals to safety.

STRONGHOLD, July 30.—(UPI)—Striking as the nationalist garrison was weakened by transfer of troops to the northern civil war fronts, the rich city of Changsha, capital of Hunan province, today was systematically sacked and burned by the invaders while foreign warships removed their nationals to safety.

The raid was described here as the most serious red incursion yet executed within China. Influential Chinese reiterated their belief it was instigated in the third internecine attack.

One of them was imminent. Nationalist government bonds declined sharply as another result of the red activity.

The raid was described here as the most serious red incursion yet executed within China. Influential Chinese reiterated their belief it was instigated in the third internecine attack.

One of them was imminent. Nationalist government bonds declined sharply as another result of the red activity.

The raid was described here as the most serious red incursion yet executed within China. Influential Chinese reiterated their belief it was instigated in the third internecine attack.

One of them was imminent. Nationalist government bonds declined sharply as another result of the red activity.

The raid was described here as the most serious red incursion yet executed within China. Influential Chinese reiterated their belief it was instigated in the third internecine attack.

One of them was imminent. Nationalist government bonds declined sharply as another result of the red activity.

The raid was described here as the most serious red incursion yet executed within China. Influential Chinese reiterated their belief it was instigated in the third internecine attack.

One of them was imminent. Nationalist government bonds declined sharply as another result of the red activity.

The raid was described here as the most serious red incursion yet executed within China. Influential Chinese reiterated their belief it was instigated in the third internecine attack.

One of them was imminent. Nationalist government bonds declined sharply as another result of the red activity.

The raid was described here as the most serious red incursion yet executed within China. Influential Chinese reiterated their belief it was instigated in the third internecine attack.

One of them was imminent. Nationalist government bonds declined sharply as another result of the red activity.

The raid was described here as the most serious red incursion yet executed within China. Influential Chinese reiterated their belief it was instigated in the third internecine attack.

One of them was imminent. Nationalist government bonds declined sharply as another result of the red activity.

The raid was described here as the most serious red incursion yet executed within China. Influential Chinese reiterated their belief it was instigated in the third internecine attack.

One of them was imminent. Nationalist government bonds declined sharply as another result of the red activity.

The raid was described here as the most serious red incursion yet executed within China. Influential Chinese reiterated their belief it was instigated in the third internecine attack.

One of them was imminent. Nationalist government bonds declined sharply as another result of the red activity.

The raid was described here as the most serious red incursion yet executed within China. Influential Chinese reiterated their belief it was instigated in the third internecine attack.

One of them was imminent. Nationalist government bonds declined sharply as another result of the red activity.

The raid was described here as the most serious red incursion yet executed within China. Influential Chinese reiterated their belief it was instigated in the third internecine attack.

One of them was imminent. Nationalist government bonds declined sharply as another result of the red activity.

The raid was described here as the most serious red incursion yet executed within China. Influential Chinese reiterated their belief it was instigated in the third internecine attack.

One of them was imminent. Nationalist government bonds declined sharply as another result of the red activity.

Heavy Blow Dealt U.S. Dope Peddlers

DRY AGENT FREED IN COLUMBUS CASE

Leaders of Five Narcotic Rings Among 26 Arrested in Series of Swift Raids by Federal Agents

BY PAUL W. WHITE,
United News Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, July 29.—(UPI)—Organized drug traffic in the United States, through which addicts are supplied to the limit of their ever-increasing craving, has been dealt the most smashing blow in years, perhaps in the history of narcotic law enforcement.

Simultaneous announcement was made today by United States District Attorney Charles H. Tuttle in New York and the treasury department in Washington of the arrest of leaders of five gangs operating along the eastern seaboard.

A large number of witnesses here but there was no argument.

Tom Moseley, an eye witness, was called first and told of arrival of the three principals. He said Rodgers was killed when the gun discharged by the three scuffed.

On cross examination, Moseley admitted he had been released from jail at Albany July 24, the day before the killing and was working for Johnson as an informant. He admitted he set the trap that cost the boy his life.

Howard Vaught said he also was an informant for Johnson and told of arrangements for the trap. He said he heard the shot soon after Rodgers and the girl drove into Moseley's yard to deliver a gallon of liquor.

Two months were occupied in the gathering of evidence that led to the arrests, which were made concurrently in New York, Philadelphia, Norfolk, Washington and Wilmington. Back of the story of the prolong investigation, which was under command of Harry J. Anslinger, acting chief of the narcotic bureau in the capital, are to be found examples of that school of fiction in which federal agents disguise themselves as human dervishes, in which detectives gain admission to the ranks of the smugglers, in which a suspect is caught red-handed as he engages in his nefarious enterprise, in which gunmen are banded in an effort to deliver their leader from the hands of authorities.

Captured by Ruse.

Such incidents, however, came not from a novelist's pen but from following the expertly hidden trails of men who because of the popular horror of their wares are forced to dwell in the shadows. Only by ruses can they receive and distribute the narcotics; and only by ruses could they be captured.

To R. A. Sanders, Washington detective, was given the credit for the first information which led to the roundup. In the guise of an addict he was offered a steady supply of drugs. When his report reached Anslinger the investigation began with direct charge divided between J. H. Manning of New York and J. B. Greene of Washington.

Three of the 30 or more undercover agents obtained by the status of experts in the ranks of the smugglers. Others, purchasing the contraband, expended as much as $15,000. Still others determined how the drugs were shipped, finding that the consignments usually were billed as ordinary merchandise, with replacement of goods taking place in American ports. It was determined that some of the rings had been operating on a vast scale for years, at times importing in a single shipment enough drugs to bring $1,000,000 at retail prices.

Black Tony.

Among those arrested were: Anthony L. Pinta, "Black Tony" to the New York side, who was brought to the federal building here surrounded by gangsters, forcing agents to draw their guns to keep their prisoner.

J. A. "Reno Red" Swindell, alias J. A. Kincaid of New York, who at the time of his arrest was about to be tried for his role in the kidnaping of the son of the Karpis gang.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

The weather was the cause of the Lake Erie, Sandusky, and Sandusky concern. The six sailors, headed by First Mate Irving Ohlemacher, were to be questioned tomorrow.

15 LIVES LOST WHEN BOAT SINKS

Sandboat Turns Over Without Warning in Lake Erie.

ERIE, Pa., July 29.—(UPI)—The sand dredge George J. Whelan—foundered in Lake Erie early today, carrying 15 members of its crew to their deaths. Six members of the body crew were brought ashore safe, eight as federal authorities prepared to investigate the accident that sank the craft.

In the early hours this morning, the steamer Ahaha Stone came into port here with the survivors and the first definite word of the wreck. It was learned that the Whelan had been operating without warning in the lake.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

The weather was the cause of the Lake Erie, Sandusky, and Sandusky concern. The six sailors, headed by First Mate Irving Ohlemacher, were to be questioned tomorrow.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

The weather was the cause of the Lake Erie, Sandusky, and Sandusky concern. The six sailors, headed by First Mate Irving Ohlemacher, were to be questioned tomorrow.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

The weather was the cause of the Lake Erie, Sandusky, and Sandusky concern. The six sailors, headed by First Mate Irving Ohlemacher, were to be questioned tomorrow.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

The weather was the cause of the Lake Erie, Sandusky, and Sandusky concern. The six sailors, headed by First Mate Irving Ohlemacher, were to be questioned tomorrow.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

The weather was the cause of the Lake Erie, Sandusky, and Sandusky concern. The six sailors, headed by First Mate Irving Ohlemacher, were to be questioned tomorrow.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

The weather was the cause of the Lake Erie, Sandusky, and Sandusky concern. The six sailors, headed by First Mate Irving Ohlemacher, were to be questioned tomorrow.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

The weather was the cause of the Lake Erie, Sandusky, and Sandusky concern. The six sailors, headed by First Mate Irving Ohlemacher, were to be questioned tomorrow.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

The weather was the cause of the Lake Erie, Sandusky, and Sandusky concern. The six sailors, headed by First Mate Irving Ohlemacher, were to be questioned tomorrow.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

The weather was the cause of the Lake Erie, Sandusky, and Sandusky concern. The six sailors, headed by First Mate Irving Ohlemacher, were to be questioned tomorrow.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

The weather was the cause of the Lake Erie, Sandusky, and Sandusky concern. The six sailors, headed by First Mate Irving Ohlemacher, were to be questioned tomorrow.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

The weather was the cause of the Lake Erie, Sandusky, and Sandusky concern. The six sailors, headed by First Mate Irving Ohlemacher, were to be questioned tomorrow.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

The weather was the cause of the Lake Erie, Sandusky, and Sandusky concern. The six sailors, headed by First Mate Irving Ohlemacher, were to be questioned tomorrow.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

The weather was the cause of the Lake Erie, Sandusky, and Sandusky concern. The six sailors, headed by First Mate Irving Ohlemacher, were to be questioned tomorrow.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

The weather was the cause of the Lake Erie, Sandusky, and Sandusky concern. The six sailors, headed by First Mate Irving Ohlemacher, were to be questioned tomorrow.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

The weather was the cause of the Lake Erie, Sandusky, and Sandusky concern. The six sailors, headed by First Mate Irving Ohlemacher, were to be questioned tomorrow.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

The weather was the cause of the Lake Erie, Sandusky, and Sandusky concern. The six sailors, headed by First Mate Irving Ohlemacher, were to be questioned tomorrow.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

The weather was the cause of the Lake Erie, Sandusky, and Sandusky concern. The six sailors, headed by First Mate Irving Ohlemacher, were to be questioned tomorrow.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

The weather was the cause of the Lake Erie, Sandusky, and Sandusky concern. The six sailors, headed by First Mate Irving Ohlemacher, were to be questioned tomorrow.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

The weather was the cause of the Lake Erie, Sandusky, and Sandusky concern. The six sailors, headed by First Mate Irving Ohlemacher, were to be questioned tomorrow.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

The weather was the cause of the Lake Erie, Sandusky, and Sandusky concern. The six sailors, headed by First Mate Irving Ohlemacher, were to be questioned tomorrow.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

The weather was the cause of the Lake Erie, Sandusky, and Sandusky concern. The six sailors, headed by First Mate Irving Ohlemacher, were to be questioned tomorrow.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

The weather was the cause of the Lake Erie, Sandusky, and Sandusky concern. The six sailors, headed by First Mate Irving Ohlemacher, were to be questioned tomorrow.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

The weather was the cause of the Lake Erie, Sandusky, and Sandusky concern. The six sailors, headed by First Mate Irving Ohlemacher, were to be questioned tomorrow.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

The weather was the cause of the Lake Erie, Sandusky, and Sandusky concern. The six sailors, headed by First Mate Irving Ohlemacher, were to be questioned tomorrow.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

The weather was the cause of the Lake Erie, Sandusky, and Sandusky concern. The six sailors, headed by First Mate Irving Ohlemacher, were to be questioned tomorrow.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

The weather was the cause of the Lake Erie, Sandusky, and Sandusky concern. The six sailors, headed by First Mate Irving Ohlemacher, were to be questioned tomorrow.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

The weather was the cause of the Lake Erie, Sandusky, and Sandusky concern. The six sailors, headed by First Mate Irving Ohlemacher, were to be questioned tomorrow.

The survivors declined to comment on the sinking of the craft until they had conferred with the owners.

KIWANIS HEARS PLEA FOR OUTLYING AREAS

Congested Districts Without Municipal Agency, Thom- son Says.

That the congested population contained inside the boundaries of Greater Atlanta has no municipal agency for coping with its joint problems of importance other than an important advisory body was made the basis of a plea by W. D. Thomson for a revision in form of the federal municipality, providing it with power of taxation and other fundamentals.

Mr. Thomson, local attorney and member of the Greater Atlanta council from the Dekalb unincorporated community, who was one of the leaders in the movement calling theborough system, delivered his address before the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club.

"Nearly a year ago the governor signed the measure establishing Great Atlanta, and since its origin the joint municipality has done absolutely nothing," Mr. Thomson asserted. "It was not because we did not want to do anything, or because there was need for anything to be done, but because we were unable to do anything. The legislature established the Greater Atlanta municipality but it did not breathe the breath of life into it."

Mr. Thomson pointed out that the problems which face any congested area cannot be confined to arbitrary boundary lines. "The menace of sewage pollution, disease and the fire menace cannot be restricted to any one portion of a congested area simply by setting up arbitrary lines of city limits," he asserted. "These problems and others grow out of the congested population and they must be solved for the congested population as a whole and by it jointly."

"There is no justification for a municipality unless it is to solve the problems which affect the people living in the area. For this reason a city government that includes the entire area of congestion must have the power to legislate for that area."

As it stands today, the council of Greater Atlanta is impotent, unable to move the problems that should be moved by a larger unit. This is simply because it was never given the vital governmental powers of taxation and the like, Mr. Thomson said.

The formation of Greater Atlanta, however, was a step in the right direction, the speaker pointed out. "It was for that reason," he said, "that I and many others accepted the present form, feeling that it was necessary to unite on something as a nucleus for what it actually needed to do." Joseph Shaw, president of Atlanta Kiwanis, presided over the meeting. Preceding Mr. Thomson's address entertainment program was staged by headliners on this week's bill of the Capitol theater, presented through courtesy of Carter Barron, manager.

New Airmail Route
Seen in Bourne Visit

Preparation by the postoffice department and the department of commerce for the projected southern transcontinental air mail route from New York to Atlanta and west via Birmingham, Jackson, Shreveport and Fort Worth to Los Angeles was seen Tuesday in the arrival here of T. B. Bourne, airways division, department of commerce. Bourne landed on the municipal airport about noon. He will begin a preliminary survey at once of an air mail route from Atlanta to New Orleans via Montgomery, a city not now served by air mail.

With the new transcontinental line in operation, the present New Orleans route will be routed via Montgomery.

State To Cut Auto
Tag Prices Friday

Beginning Friday, August 1, all automobile tags for use during the last half of 1930 will be sold at half the regular price, officials of the secretary of state's office announced Tuesday.

License rates are based on the weight of the car. The state law provides a tax of 50 cents a hundred pounds and a minimum rate of $1.25 a car. From Friday until December 31, 1930, these prices will be split.

CHICAGO, July 29.—(P)—The circuit court was asked to attempt to establish the identity of the Watkins-Bamberger babies, that may or may not have been switched at the Englewood hospital.

A bill in equity was filed on the part of John Doe, alias the Watkins baby, alias the Bamberger baby, by Mrs. Grace Dibrell, clubwoman, as the baby's friend. In court the baby "plaintiff" is the four-weeks-old infant the Williams' Watkins took home from the hospital as theirs, but which was later found to have a "Bamberger" tag on its back.

The suit named the Englewood hospital Association, the Charles Bambergers, parents of one of the babies, and the William Watkins as defendants, according to Barratt O'Hearn, attorney for Mrs. Dibrell and Watkins.

No money is involved in the suit.

It is merely to establish the identity of the babies. A jury of scientists with one dissenter held that the babies were transposed. A group of physicians held that they were not.

The Bambergers contend they have the right baby while the Watkinses are not sure.

Committee To Draw
Ice Report Today

Drafting of a report of the special committee of council, created to probe the price of ice in Atlanta with a view of ascertaining whether a combine exists to control prices, is slated at a meeting of that body at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the city hall, it was announced by Mayor Frank C. Councilman Elmer B. Barrett, chairman.

Ice companies recently ordered a 50 per cent increase in the price of the commodity and this action precipitated the council probe.

Mt. Gilead Meeting
On Thursday Night

The ninety-second annual camp meeting to be held at Mount Gilead church-house near Ben Hill will begin at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night with Dr. John S. Jenkins, presiding elder, and other prominent ministers in charge.

On Sunday following Tuesday Dr. Walter Anthony, of Savannah, will be the principal speaker at each of the three services to be held daily throughout the meeting. Music will be furnished by a large chorus under the direction of Charlie Tillman.

Old Elevators Taken
From State Capitol

Progress of the renovation of the state capitol Tuesday included the dismantling of the old elevator to make way for two new, up-to-date cars which will be installed within the next two months. Meantime, people with state business on the second and third floors will have to walk up.

Plans were being made by engineers, too, for removing the statue of Benjamin Hill, distinguished Georgia statesman, back into the capitol grounds. It has been in the rotunda for some time.

Camp-Lindley Family
Reunion August 10

The Camp-Lindley family reunion will be held this year at Grant park Sunday, August 10, from 1 to 5 p.m. It will be a day affair, each party attending bringing its own basket lunch. James A. Perry, chairman of the Georgia public service commission, and the Rev. J. W. Brinsford will be the principal speakers.

Sibley Will Hear
Deportation Case

Habeas corpus proceedings instituted by a lawyer to obtain the release of William J. Harrington from Fulton tower where he is held for deportation back to Manitoba, Canada, will be heard Thursday by Judge Samuel H. Sibley. Harrington had just completed a term in the Atlanta penitentiary when he was locked up at the instance of J. A. Fleck, district immigration inspector, who had refused to allow him to make bail of $500 pending a deportation hearing.

Daily Attendance
In Schools Gains

Average daily attendance of the Atlanta public schools increased 3,000 over the 1929 term, according to figures released Tuesday by M. E. Colemen, director of census and attendance.

Bass Junior High school led in attendance for white schools.

P. B. Smith Indicted
In Downtown Holdup

Robbery of R. G. Chestnut in the Peters building was charged Tuesday against P. B. Smith in an indictment returned by the Fulton county grand jury. Smith is charged with holding up Chestnut and taking $935 belonging to D. O. Chestnut on July 7.

Al Smith Becomes Grandfather Again

NEW YORK, July 29.—(P)—Former Governor Alfred E. Smith became a grandfather for the fifth time today when his daughter, Mrs. Francis J. Quillinan, became the mother of an eight-pound boy. Quillinan is a law partner of United States Senator Robert Wagner.

Rain Will Break Long Hot Wave, Forecast Says

Thundershowers that have broken a heat wave as near as Louisville, Kentucky, Tuesday were expected by the Atlanta weather bureau to strike here before sundown today and send a temperature which for two days has touched 94 back down the hill.

Absence of any wind Tuesday made the heat seem worse than Monday but the official reading, Director C. F. von Herrmann said, was the same. At 1 o'clock and at 2 o'clock it was 94 but dropped a point at 3.

When the thundershowers finally arrive, the weather man promises, there will be a "spell" of cool weather.

Two Vital Necessities

For a Successful Cooking School

High Quality Meats

—AND—

The Best Flour

Just as the Home Economic Class of Washington Seminary selects a ROGERS' MARKET from which to learn all about High Quality Meats—so does Mrs. Vera Howard Hall

Select Rogers' Markets

from which to secure her meats for use in The Constitution's
FREE COOKING SCHOOL.

Thousands of Atlanta housewives appreciate Rogers' clean, inviting markets—and they appreciate, too, the low prices—the savings—they can make in a Rogers' Market—and yet secure the Highest Quality Meats.

Attend the Cooking School. Hear Mrs. Hall—her words of commendation about the meats from a Rogers' Market. See the enticing manner in which she will cook and serve REAL BEEF and other fresh meats from a Rogers' Market.

White Lily Flour

Makes Fine Cakes

Selected by Mrs. Hall as the most desirable for her use in the Free Cooking School. She will show you by actual demonstrations the wonderful results to be attained from using White Lily Flour for all baking purposes.

Rogers' Stores Can Supply You

Selected for their fine, crisp and delicious qualities are being used in the demonstrations all this week at Keith's Georgia Theatre.

BELOW ARE LISTED A FEW OF THE ITEMS EXACTLY THE SAME AS THE COOKING SCHOOL WILL USE

Fresh, Crisp, Green Cucumber

Peas LB. 9c

Small, Tender, Yellow Crookneck

Squash LB. 7c

Tender, Crisp Iceberg

Lettuce EA. 9c

Large, Juicy

Lemons DOZ. 27c

White Silverskin

Onions LB. 5c

POTATOES

NO. 1 COBBLER NO. 1 RED

LB. 3c LB. 5c

THE GROCERIES USED IN THE COOKING SCHOOL WERE ALSO SELECTED FROM THE A&P!

Below are listed only a few of the many items selected:

Serve them Cold—Quaker Maid Baked

Beans 2 1-LB. CANS 15c

White House—Evaporated

Milk 2 SMALL CANS 9c

Nectar Orange Pekoe

Tea 4-Oz. Pkg. 15c

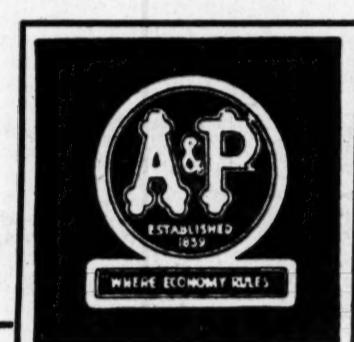

Quaker Maid Tomato

Ketchup 14-OZ. BOTTLE 15c

Silverbrook Print or A&P Tea

Butter LB. 41c

THE GREAT
ATLANTIC & PACIFIC
TEA COMPANY
SOUTHERN DIVISION

PERSONAL

The A&P Store nearest you is your store. It is made to supply your wants at least possible expense to you.

Behind the man at the counter stands an army trained and ready to do your bidding!

In Our MEAT Departments

Lamb or Veal Patties LB. 33c

Tender Beef Chuck Steak LB. 23c

Dainty-Meat Spread 1 LB. 15c

Cold Sliced Luncheon Ham 1 LB. 18c

David Berg's Wieners LB. 25c

Frankfurters LB. 28c

David Berg's Grandmother's BREAD

FULL 16-OZ. LOAF 7c

Raisin Bread TODAY 10c

Sandwich Loaf 10c

Whole Wheat Loaf 10c

Pan Rolls Doz. 8c

Grandmother's Bread and Rolls are the result of many years experience by master bakers.

Twice daily your A&P store receives a fresh shipment of these fine products.

AT ROGERS' STORES BUY FROM ROGERS'

HARRIS' 1918 EXPENSES ARE CITED BY SLATON

In Repling to Charges That He Is Using Large Campaign Fund.

CLAXTON, Ga., July 29.—(Special)—Former Governor John M. Slaton, opposing Senator Harris for re-election, struck back vigorously at Senator Harris today in an address here to a large audience, concerning the matter of campaign expenditures.

"In his opening address at Dublin Monday," said the former governor, "Senator Harris devoted the major portion of his attention to campaign expenditures. He spoke of me as attempting to buy a seat in the United States senate and explained that he came back to Georgia to make an active campaign, not for the purpose of insuring his re-election, but to prevent the people from letting me beguile them with money. One almost shudders to think what would become of the people if they didn't have Senator Harris to look after them."

"The propriety of campaign expenditures, where Senator Harris is concerned, depends altogether on whether he is making them or his opponent is making them. When he makes a race with me, I am using funds contributed by other people, it is perfectly all right for him to spend money. But when I make a race with a campaign fund which I furnish myself, then my expenditures become a great menace to the people, and he already commences to threaten a senatorial investigation. This is really indicative that he expects to lose, since if I spent my money and failed to defeat him, I suppose he would consider that the people were safe, and would not bother with a senatorial investigation."

"Senator Harris evidently imagines that the people have forgotten his campaign expenditures of years ago when he got into the seat which was the war-time protege of President Wilson. In that campaign Senator Harris had a fund, which obviously was quite ample, contributed by other people. He sent an advance agent to make contracts with newspapers for advertisements and so forth, and the agent skipped a race from border to border. The papers were copiously supplied with advertisements heralding Mr. Harris as 'President Wilson's Choice.' Pictures of Mr. Harris adorned the trees, fence posts, and telegraph poles along the highways. The Harris headquarters was manned with an abundance of men."

"If it was legitimate and proper for William J. Harris to present his candidacy to the people by means of newspaper advertisements, direct mail, etc., in 1918, and to pay for it with money contributed by other people, wherein does it become improper, and wherein does it become a violation of the people, for John M. Slaton to present his candidacy to the people by identically the same methods, in 1930, and to pay for it with money supplied by John M. Slaton?"

"I am sending advertisements to the newspapers, not as often as I should like to, nor as large as I should like to make them, but as much as I can afford, and I am paying for them at the regular advertising rates. Senator Harris is sending advertisements to the newspapers and asking them to publish the advertisements at reduced rates, on the ground that the senator is a poor man."

Mr. Slaton's speaking itinerary took him from Claxton to Baxley, where he spoke at Waycross, and was followed by meetings the afternoon and evening at Alma and Waycross.

Issues Stressed

In Carswell Talk.

STATESBORO, Ga., July 29.—(Special)—Stating that issues in the governor's race far overshadows petty personalities, George H. Carswell brought his candidacy for governor to southeast Georgia today in a speech delivered here at noon. Opening of the session of the legislature was brought a large crowd to Statesboro.

The issues confronting the people of Georgia today are grave and will require the best thought and action of the people to work them out, Mr. Carswell said, and the "successful working out of these problems should take precedence over any man's personal ambition to be elected."

"Take the matter of the schools alone," Mr. Carswell said. "We are not only faced with the problem of paying up the back appropriations made by the legislature in 1927 and 1928, but we are faced with the problem of keeping the schools open for a fifth term next year. To do this we must have the money for the income to be proportioned that this deficit may be paid off and the schools kept open. This situation was created by the appropriations made by the legislature in excess of the income of the state. Two of the candidates for governor at present were members of the 1927 general assembly, and one of them was a member of both sessions—1927 and 1928. Let them answer why the finances of the state are in the condition they are in."

Mr. Carswell said that the one-cent per gallon on gasoline now allocated for school purposes should be continued.

He advocated keeping the highway department out of politics and "giving it a chance to build roads to our schools and markets and not forever being used to build a lane to the state capitol."

Weekly Press Favors Slaton, Says Chapman

SANDERSVILLE, Ga., July 29.—(Special)—Definite claim that the majority of the weekly newspapers of Georgia are supporting John M. Slaton in his campaign against Senator William J. Harris was made in a statement issued here today by Gordon Chapman, publicity director of the Slaton campaign. The claim is based on the result of a poll of the weekly papers of the state.

In his statement, Chapman also claims that former Governor Slaton will carry more than 100 counties.

The statement follows:

"Several weeks ago I mailed a questionnaire to every weekly newspaper in Georgia asking them to check four questions:

"Did you encourage Slaton to run?

"Do you discourage Slaton to run?

"Do you favor Slaton?

"Do you favor Harris?

"The replies indicate a large percentage of the weekly editors of Georgia are not satisfied with the stewardship of Senator Harris. Also, the replies show that the overwhelming majority are supporting Governor Slaton, than are supporting Senator Harris. One of the editors made notation on the bottom of his questionnaire that he was tired of Senator Harris riding the newspapers of Georgia with his boastfulness. Another termed Senator Harris as 'Appropriation Bill and High Taxes' because Harris has never been known to vote against any appropriation.

"Owing to the large volume of mail at the Slaton headquarters in Atlanta it has become necessary to add to police force to meet the work. To day I received a message from Atlanta stating that two additional stenographers had been engaged, bringing the total to 20, which I believe is the largest force ever used in any political campaign in Georgia. Immediately after Governor Slaton speaks in a town or city, there is a large increase of mail and telegrams, and millions of people stand by him. I am sure that the people who did not support him in his campaign are now supporting him."

"Take the matter of the schools alone," Mr. Carswell said. "We are not only faced with the problem of paying up the back appropriations made by the legislature in 1927 and 1928, but we are faced with the problem of keeping the schools open for a fifth term next year. To do this we must have the money for the income to be proportioned that this deficit may be paid off and the schools kept open. This situation was created by the appropriations made by the legislature in excess of the income of the state. Two of the candidates for governor at present were members of the 1927 general assembly, and one of them was a member of both sessions—1927 and 1928. Let them answer why the finances of the state are in the condition they are in."

Mr. Carswell said that the one-cent per gallon on gasoline now allocated for school purposes should be continued.

He advocated keeping the highway department out of politics and "giving it a chance to build roads to our schools and markets and not forever being used to build a lane to the state capitol."

Is Running To Win, Declares Russell

BUCHANAN, Ga., July 29.—(Special)—Definite claim to dislodge his candidacy by winning the election of the old ringsters to keep up their courage." Richard B. Russell, Jr., candidate for governor, and present speaker of the house, expressed absolute confidence in the success of his campaign in an address delivered here today.

"While I am not claiming as much as the other candidates, I have been fully successful in the efforts of some of the old fashioned ringsters to dislodge my candidacy by telling friends that I was running for practice. It is true that three of my opponents have run from one to three unsuccessful trials before and it is natural for their supporters to think that their candidate must be defeated several times before he can be elected but my candidacy is not based on any such idea.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Mr. Morgenstern, public relations representative of the University of Chicago, told the committee that the university did not countenance communism and denied that either the socialism or the liberal clubs at the university were communistic organizations. He said they were liberal societies whose charters were in the possession of the university.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Mr. Morgenstern, public relations representative of the University of Chicago, told the committee that the university did not countenance communism and denied that either the socialism or the liberal clubs at the university were communistic organizations. He said they were liberal societies whose charters were in the possession of the university.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

Explaining a report made to the committee on the red flag which had flown atop a university building, Morgenstern said that on last May 1, about 5 a.m., some unknown person had climbed the flagpole and unfurled the red banner which was taken down as soon as university watchmen discovered it.

GEORGIA TOBACCO MARKETS OPEN

Continued from First Page.

filled to overflowing and tobacco still rapidly coming in, the 1930 market opened on schedule time in Statesboro. The first 12 baskets sold at $1.25 per pound above 1929.

Dr. R. J. Kennedy, county commissioner, sold 30 baskets ranging in price from 15 to 20 cents. Sheriff Joe Tillman sold tobacco from four barns, getting from 6 to 20 cents. It was estimated during the afternoon that 450,000 pounds were on the market Tuesday, making this the biggest day in point of quantity in its history. The highest price paid here so far was 23 cents.

WAYCROSS LIJONS VOICE PROTEST.

WAYCROSS, Ga., July 29.—(Special)—Prices paid today for tobacco on the Georgia markets were described before the Lions Club of this city as "deplorable" and below the cost of production, and the facts should be given to the public, according to action of the civic body.

"The people have visited to tobacco warehouses, not only in Waycross but in other market cities today, know that prices are far below what they should be, and yet we will read in newspapers tomorrow morning that prices are good, judging from our experience of last year," declared M. M. Monroe, prominent business man of this city.

The Lions went on record as heartily as appropriate, placing a protest to the Waycross Daily Telegraph in refusing to carry unofficial daily reports from south Georgia markets, on the grounds that the reports are padded and inaccurate, and urged other newspapers of the territory to fall in line with the precedent set by the Telegraph.

Only the weekly official reports of the state bureau of markets should be published, the club agreed.

The secretary of the club was instructed to send a letter of congratulations to the Telegraph, and to request other state dailies to refuse to publish unofficial reports in the future.

Prices are Waycross, though probably more satisfactory than on the majority of the markets, were described this afternoon as disappointing. It is true that the poorer grades of leaf were being offered, but prices picked up some as the day progressed.

Many farmers are turning down the sales. At one warehouse it was estimated that from a third to half of the sales were turned down by the farmers.

Much dissatisfaction is being expressed by the citizens and some are discussing making complaints to the United States senators of the Georgia.

Experienced growers claim the grades this year compare favorably with grades on opening day last year except this year tobacco is just a little lighter in weight.

Average prices today were estimated by one of the book from 10 to 11 cents; in one warehouse who is not selling today, from 10 to 12 cents, and by one large grower with years of growing experience in North Carolina, at 10 cents. Prices ranged on the floors from 2 to 24 cents.

All the big tobacco companies and exporters are represented on the Douglas market. Not much government-grade tobacco went on sale today.

Sold at VALDOSTA.

VALDOSTA, Ga., July 29.—(Special)—It is estimated that 675,000 pounds of tobacco were sold on the Douglas market today for approximately $8,000 on an average estimated of $12. Saunders warehouse with approximately 450,000 pounds, was not touched, going into a block sale and will be sold Wednesday morning.

The opening sales this morning were slow for the first half hour, with most purchases being made by the warehousemen and the prices ranging from $8 to $20.

None of the warehouse books have been balanced yet and figures contained herein represent what is believed to be a conservative estimate of the day's business.

The amount total is considerably below the total sales of the first day last year, and it appears that the average for the day will also fall below last year's opening.

ADEL, TIFTON, FITZGERALD,
METTER, BLACKSHEAR REPORT.

MACON, Ga., July 28.—(A.P.)—Aroused over what he terms a "disappointing" market, E. C. Westbrook, tobacco specialist of the State College of Agriculture, Tuesday issued a statement to the farmers of the south Georgia tobacco belt.

There was less than 1,000,000 pounds of tobacco on the floors of the three large warehouses here when the market opened today. The price average was 8 cents per pound, the lowest since 1921.

This condition, Mr. Westbrook said, prompted him to issue this statement:

"The opening tobacco markets to date are more disappointing to the Georgia farmers. Opening prices were much below the cost of production. Bitter protests indicate some action will be taken if prices do not improve soon."

"Indignation meetings may be held to protest the low prices. I advise farmers not to rush their tobacco on the market. I suggest they hold it back a few days and take especial care to keep the tobacco dry."

PRICES BELOW AVERAGE REPORTED FROM CAIRO.

CAIRO, Ga., July 29.—While many were disappointed in the opening of the tobacco market at the opening today to 52,657 pounds, the average prices per grade appeared to be somewhat below the averages at the opening last year, although there were practically no rejected sales.

The tobacco was of fair to good quality, drawings and the average was $12.78 per hundred pounds, with a price range up to $30. The only lot of tied tobacco on the floor brought $28 per hundred pounds.

THOMASVILLE OFFERS 140,000 LBS.

THOMASVILLE, Ga., July 29.—(Special)—Opening day receipts in the Thomasville tobacco market were up to expectations, notwithstanding an all-day rain Monday and Tuesday in muddy roads. A careful estimate of the leaf on the floor, row by row, indicated 946 baskets exposed for sale with an average of around 150 pounds per basket, for a total of about 140,000 lbs.

Tobacco was fair to good quality brought $10 to $15 per hundred. A limited amount of weed brought $20 or better. Low grades were not as much in evidence as they were a year ago and they brought $6 to $9 per hundred.

Average price for all grades sold would appear to be around $13 per hundred. The warehouse management will not be able to furnish exact figures for today's market before Wednesday.

500,000 POUNDS AT HAZLEHURST.

HAZLEHURST, Ga., July 29.—The Hazlehurst tobacco market opened here Tuesday with both warehouses completely filled with approximately 500,000 pounds on the floors.

Thirty minutes after the market opened the farmers demanded that the sale be called off on account of extremely low prices. The price of tobacco on price was less than one-half of prices paid last year.

The market was then closed but was opened later and sales resumed

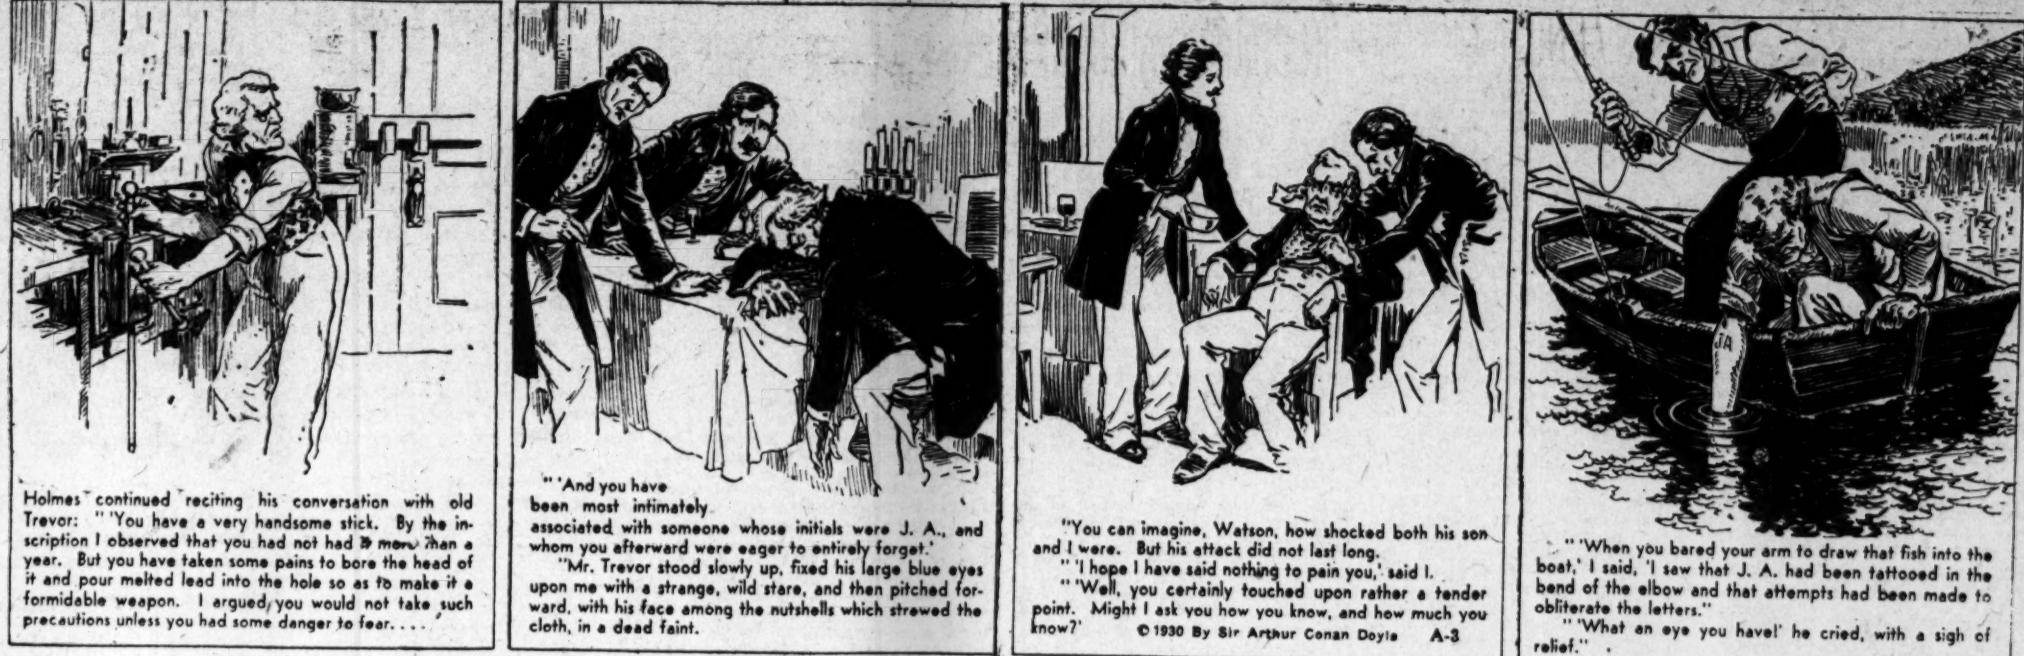

666

Relieves a Headache or Neuralgia in 30 minutes, checks a Cold the first day, and checks Malaria in three days.

666 also in Tablets.

Malaria Leaves
Thousands of people have banished malaria by taking Lax-ana (double strength). Market improvement in 3 days. Costs less per dose; does more per dose. At all drug stores.

LAX-ANA
(DOUBLE STRENGTH)

SHERLOCK HOLMES—Case of the "Gloria Scott" "How Much Do You Know?" By SIR ARTHUR CONAN DOYLE

after a conference between some of the large farmers and the tobacco warehousemen. Prices then went somewhat higher.

PRICES OFF AT DOUGLAS.

DOUGLAS, Ga., July 29.—(Special)—Douglas tobacco market opened today with two sets of buyers and with approximately a million pounds on the floors of the five large warehouses.

Prices are much lower than the opening day last year, estimated from 30 to 50 per cent lower. Estimates on average prices range from 8 to 12 cents but prices picked up some as the day progressed.

Many farmers are turning down the sales. At one warehouse it was estimated that from a third to half of the sales were turned down by the farmers.

Following his conviction on the Roane County Taylor resigned his office as city councilman and was succeeded by J. Henson Tatum, who was formerly executive secretary for Mayor L. N. Ragsdale. Taylor had been city clerk for more than 20 years.

The case went to the jury at 5:45 o'clock after two days of testimony taking and argument. In the possession of the jury were the sworn statements of Taylor that he had lied in securing new pavement for West Peachtree street. The former city clerk drew a sentence of 12 months and a $1,000 fine. His motion for a new trial was denied, and his appeal to the state court of appeals has been taken.

Judge Moore's charge to the jury, which also included the reading of the indictment by the court, follows:

"$11,000 invested capital." Arnold declared. "But the defense contends he didn't even take it. A man utters 5,000 words a day, and then go back seven years and dig up 10 words of a loose verbal conversation between Taylor and a man who was angry at Taylor when he told John Boykin about it."

Arnold pointed out that Beall was a special deputy sheriff and a special city policeman at the time of the alleged offense and claimed that because Beall was such an officer at that time, the statute of limitations began to run in Taylor's favor and the case is now barred.

Arnold said "we are not tried for intents" and continued: "If the conversation did not go to the extent of offering a bribe, Taylor has not violated any statute."

Judge Moore's charge to the jury, which also included the reading of the indictment by the court, follows:

Judge's Charge.

"Now, gentlemen, where knowledge, motive, intent, good or bad faith, and other matters dependent upon a person's state of mind are involved, as a material element in a particular criminal offense, for which the defendant is on trial, and the defendant has engaged in a course of conduct which is an offense, then at the same time, the acts in question were committed and these other transactions are such as to illustrate the state of the defendant's mind on the subject involved, proof of them may be received."

"I charge you if in the transaction about which evidence has been submitted to you in this case and upon which the defendant is on trial, if defendant's motive, intent, good or bad faith in making the offer as alleged in the indictment is involved, if the offer was so made, and then in deciding what his motive and intent were, you must consider evidence of an other transaction or transactions or other acts or conduct at the same time the acts may be received."

"I charge you if in the transaction about which evidence has been submitted to you in this case and upon which the defendant is on trial, if defendant's motive, intent, good or bad faith in making the offer as alleged in the indictment is involved, if the offer was so made, and then in deciding what his motive and intent were, you must consider evidence of an other transaction or transactions or other acts or conduct at the same time the acts may be received."

"The court expresses no opinion as to what facts have or have not been proven in this case."

"The object of all legal investigation is the discovery of truth. The rules of evidence are framed with a view to this prominent end, seeking at all times for pure sources and the highest evidence."

"Direct Evidence.

"Whether or not such evidence of other transactions has been submitted to you in this case, or whether they throw any light upon the indictment, the court leaves for you to determine."

"I charge you if in the transaction about which evidence has been submitted to you in this case and upon which the defendant is on trial, if defendant's motive, intent, good or bad faith in making the offer as alleged in the indictment is involved, if the offer was so made, and then in deciding what his motive and intent were, you must consider evidence of an other transaction or transactions or other acts or conduct at the same time the acts may be received."

"The court expresses no opinion as to what facts have or have not been proven in this case."

"The object of all legal investigation is the discovery of truth. The rules of evidence are framed with a view to this prominent end, seeking at all times for pure sources and the highest evidence."

"Presumptive evidence consists of inference drawn by human experience from the connection of cause and effect and observations of human conduct."

"To warrant a conviction on circumstantial evidence, the prosecution must not only prove the circumstances which tend to establish guilt but must exclude every other reasonable hypothesis than that of the guilt of the accused."

The Question of Bribery.

"Now, gentlemen, as to the question of bribery—bribery is the giving or receiving any undue reward to influence the behavior of the person giving or receiving such reward in the discharge of his duty in any office of government or of justice."

"Judge Moore overruled the mistrial motion and told the jury that the remarks of the solicitor were improper and not to be considered by the jury.

The solicitor-general told the jury that counsel for the defense would appeal for mercy on the ground that Taylor is 62 years old, and is already convicted and has not served that long yet, and the solicitor-general is not personally pleased with the verdict, which is "stinks to high heaven," Arnold charged.

The solicitor-general told the jury that the defense would appeal for mercy on the ground that Taylor is 62 years old, and is already convicted and has not served that long yet, and the solicitor-general is not personally pleased with the verdict, which is "stinks to high heaven," Arnold charged.

The solicitor-general told the jury that the defense would appeal for mercy on the ground that Taylor is 62 years old, and is already convicted and has not served that long yet, and the solicitor-general is not personally pleased with the verdict, which is "stinks to high heaven," Arnold charged.

Boyle urged the jury not to let sympathy interfere with its verdict, and pointed out that "the defendant has all the incentive to make a false statement. He is not even subject to perjury as are sworn witnesses."

Boyle urged the jury that Taylor concealed the alleged crime by "padding" Beall on the square of the Macon court, and that Taylor attempted to sneak in a few words of his paper, and alleged that he tried to corrupt a man in order to crack a whip over his head. "Intimidation of that character makes every man a coward," Boyle said.

Boyle urged the jury not to let sympathy interfere with its verdict, and pointed out that "the defendant has all the incentive to make a false statement. He is not even subject to perjury as are sworn witnesses."

Boyle urged the jury that Taylor concealed the alleged crime by "padding" Beall on the square of the Macon court, and that Taylor attempted to sneak in a few words of his paper, and alleged that he tried to corrupt a man in order to crack a whip over his head. "Intimidation of that character makes every man a coward," Boyle said.

Boyle urged the jury not to let sympathy interfere with its verdict, and pointed out that "the defendant has all the incentive to make a false statement. He is not even subject to perjury as are sworn witnesses."

Boyle urged the jury that Taylor concealed the alleged crime by "padding" Beall on the square of the Macon court, and that Taylor attempted to sneak in a few words of his paper, and alleged that he tried to corrupt a man in order to crack a whip over his head. "Intimidation of that character makes every man a coward," Boyle said.

Boyle urged the jury not to let sympathy interfere with its verdict, and pointed out that "the defendant has all the incentive to make a false statement. He is not even subject to perjury as are sworn witnesses."

Boyle urged the jury that Taylor concealed the alleged crime by "padding" Beall on the square of the Macon court, and that Taylor attempted to sneak in a few words of his paper, and alleged that he tried to corrupt a man in order to crack a whip over his head. "Intimidation of that character makes every man a coward," Boyle said.

Boyle urged the jury not to let sympathy interfere with its verdict, and pointed out that "the defendant has all the incentive to make a false statement. He is not even subject to perjury as are sworn witnesses."

Boyle urged the jury that Taylor concealed the alleged crime by "padding" Beall on the square of the Macon court, and that Taylor attempted to sneak in a few words of his paper, and alleged that he tried to corrupt a man in order to crack a whip over his head. "Intimidation of that character makes every man a coward," Boyle said.

Boyle urged the jury not to let sympathy interfere with its verdict, and pointed out that "the defendant has all the incentive to make a false statement. He is not even subject to perjury as are sworn witnesses."

Boyle urged the jury that Taylor concealed the alleged crime by "padding" Beall on the square of the Macon court, and that Taylor attempted to sneak in a few words of his paper, and alleged that he tried to corrupt a man in order to crack a whip over his head. "Intimidation of that character makes every man a coward," Boyle said.

Boyle urged the jury not to let sympathy interfere with its verdict, and pointed out that "the defendant has all the incentive to make a false statement. He is not even subject to perjury as are sworn witnesses."

Boyle urged the jury that Taylor concealed the alleged crime by "padding" Beall on the square of the Macon court, and that Taylor attempted to sneak in a few words of his paper, and alleged that he tried to corrupt a man in order to crack a whip over his head. "Intimidation of that character makes every man a coward," Boyle said.

Boyle urged the jury not to let sympathy interfere with its verdict, and pointed out that "the defendant has all the incentive to make a false statement. He is not even subject to perjury as are sworn witnesses."

Boyle urged the jury that Taylor concealed the alleged crime by "padding" Beall on the square of the Macon court, and that Taylor attempted to sneak in a few words of his paper, and alleged that he tried to corrupt a man in order to crack a whip over his head. "Intimidation of that character makes every man a coward," Boyle said.

Boyle urged the jury not to let sympathy interfere with its verdict, and pointed out that "the defendant has all the incentive to make a false statement. He is not even subject to perjury as are sworn witnesses."

Boyle urged the jury that Taylor concealed the alleged crime by "padding" Beall on the square of the Macon court, and that Taylor attempted to sneak in a few words of his paper, and alleged that he tried to corrupt a man in order to crack a whip over his head. "Intimidation of that character makes every man a coward," Boyle said.

Boyle urged the jury not to let sympathy interfere with its verdict, and pointed out that "the defendant has all the incentive to make a false statement. He is not even subject to perjury as are sworn witnesses."

Boyle urged the jury that Taylor concealed the alleged crime by "padding" Beall on the square of the Macon court, and that Taylor attempted to sneak in a few words of his paper, and alleged that he tried to corrupt a man in order to crack a whip over his head. "Intimidation of that character makes every man a coward," Boyle said.

Boyle urged the jury not to let sympathy interfere with its verdict, and pointed out that "the defendant has all the incentive to make a false statement. He is not even subject to perjury as are sworn witnesses."

Boyle urged the jury that Taylor concealed the alleged crime by "padding" Beall on the square of the Macon court, and that Taylor attempted to sneak in a few words of his paper, and alleged that he tried to corrupt a man in order to crack a whip over his head. "Intimidation of that character makes every man a coward," Boyle said.

Boyle urged the jury not to let sympathy interfere with its verdict, and pointed out that "the defendant has all the incentive to make a false statement

THE CONSTITUTION

CLARK HOWELL
Editor and General Manager.
Clark Howell, Jr., Business Manager.

Entered at the Postoffice at Atlanta as second-class mail matter.

Telephone WAL 4566

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
Daily and 1 Yr. 1 No. 3 Mon. & Fri. 1 Yr.
Sunday .20c $2.50 $25.00 $25.00
Daily .10c .25c .50c .50c
Dailies Copies-Daily .10c .25c .50c .50c
By Mail Only .10c .25c .50c .50c
Subs. F. D. and small or non-resident towns for 1st and 2d zones only.
Daily (without Sunday) 1 yr. $2.50 $25.00

ATLANTA, GA., JULY 30, 1930.

J. E. HOLLIDAY, Constitution Building, sole advertising manager for all territory outside of Atlanta.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York city by 2 p.m. the day after issue.
It can be had Holting's News Stand, Brooklyn and Franklin Street (7th building corner); Shultz News Agency, at Bryant Park and Grand Central Depot.

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents. Receipts given for subscription payment are not authorized; such published rates are authorized; also not responsible for subscription payments until received at office of publication.

Member of The Associated Press.

The Associated Press is exclusively authorized to use for publication of all news dispatched credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

THE BLESSED ONES—Blessed are they that do his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city.—Rev. 22:14.

PRAYER—"Come Almighty to deliver us all Thy life receive."

JUDGE CAMP SPEAKS OUT.

It is worth while to extract from the news report of the Fulton county superior court a statement by the presiding Judge, R. Earl Camp.

Describing himself as "razor-backed Georgian" and insistent "upon full justice being done to members of both races represented in the citizenship of the state," Judge Camp added this true and pungent statement—

"It is only the lowest type of our citizenship that causes racial difficulties, and we are determined that this class of citizens shall not disturb the orderly processes of our courts."

Nothing truer and more timely has been said from the bench of Georgia.

It epitomizes the sentiment of the vast majority of the good citizens of the state and Judge Camp deserves the fullest praise for his courage and readiness to express that sentiment with acute judicial accent.

The Wesleyan Christian Advocate, journalistic spokesman of the great Methodist church, says along the same line, in its current issue:

"Justice is color-blind—or it is no longer justice. If race is to intrude itself into the courtroom, the civilization which tolerates it has pronounced seething judgment upon itself. It can no longer stand upholding where true men stand—not to blush is to accentuate its black degradation; it is to be brazenly guilty and exposed."

But there is more imperative reason for justice to hold an even balance. It is not a question of the prestige of a civilization—it is a question of elemental righteousness. Justice, influenced by any extraneous circumstance, is injus'te, and injustice, tolerated, is disinherited to everything the public sentiment, girded and aggressive, blazing and blistering, damns to the deepest hell of public scorn and ostracism every heart to nurture race antagonism—every effort, whether of an individual, an organization, a political party, a candidate, or a religious sect (if such a misnomer can be imagined).

All good citizens want justice dispensed in Georgia without prejudice on account of race, color or creed, and not "dispensed with" to please the crass, ignorant and law-usrping element that feeds on race hatreds and fanaticism.

That element must not be permitted by prosecutors, courts and juries to break down the safeguards of justice, put a stigma of disgrace upon our civilization and substitute mob law for the reign of impartial law.

Events are multiplying throughout the state which prove that Georgia juries and judges are fully awake to the danger of showing toleration to any form of mob spirit and action.

They are giving those who would substitute savagery for justice and roadside courts martial for the tribunals of the state to understand that the long arm of the people can reach them and bring them to punishment.

Judge Camp deserves the applause of all true and intelligent Georgians for emphasizing those great facts here in the capital of the commonwealth.

BANNING THE BILLBOARDS.

The decision of the Fox Theater Corporation to abandon billboard and magazine publicity and confine their advertising to display announcements in the newspapers is a salient instance of the wiser business economy that is being adopted by large enterprises dependent upon public patronage.

The billboard has come to be one of the national nuisances of our time. It came into its popularity many years ago when newspaper circulations were limited even in the cities and when there were no regular mail deliveries.

But with the increasing intelligence of the masses both urban and rural, with daily newspapers penetrating every locality of their area, and with a growing sentiment that the highways should not be cluttered and obstructed by huge flamboyant hoardings, the shrewd managers of business publicity are forsaking the billboards and turning to the pages of the popular newspapers.

It is a cold, undeniable fact that the surest way to reach the public eye and attract the public interest is to put the story in the newspaper. The publisher has always known that, for he gets the evidence returned to him every day from people who "saw it in the paper." But it has taken close-cost-accounting by the national advertisers to finally convince them that the newspaper is the best channel through which to reach the public.

The testimony is given freely by scores of the great advertisers of the nation, just as the Fox Theater Corporation is giving evidence, that it is cheaper and more effective to put their claims before the interested newspaper reading public than through any other method.

COURAGEOUS MAYOR MILLICAN.

No man in the city council has made a better record for honesty, and in the fight for clean government, than Alderman G. Everett Millikan, but nothing that he has done has been more commendable than his proclamation, as acting mayor, promulgated with the view of countering the exaggerated rumors that have been the outgrowth of the propaganda of irresponsible racial agitators.

His assurance that the full authority of the city will be put back of the demand for peace and law and order, and his appeal to the conscience of the public to repudiate racial and social disturbers as public enemies, will meet the approval of every law abiding citizen of Atlanta.

Strength to the arm of such an official! Atlanta needs more such!

BUSINESS COMING BACK.

Those who are pessimistically inclined should listen to so expert and trustworthy an observer as Robert W. Woodruff, president of both the big Coca-Cola Company and the White Motor Company. If any eminent executive knows the facts of business making for either dread or hope he is Mr. Woodruff. He speaks with understanding and candor. He says:

"General business conditions are not far from normal and the market is showing the movement is in the direction of the public who persist in setting up 1929—a most abnormal year—as their mark to measure from."
There will be few 1929's and the will be far between in the future, so let's go off with normal vision, normal standards to go by and normal acting."

ROUTINE FOR ONE WEEK:

First Day.

Morning—Puréed prunes, Cream of Wheat with milk and sugar, toast and butter, milk.

10 O'Clock—Milk and graham crackers.

Noon—Two poached eggs on toast, pure spinach, toast and butter, baked custard, milk.

3 O'Clock—Ice cream, egg nog.

Evening—Cream of spinach soup, puréed peas, toast and butter, canned peas, milk.

8:30 O'Clock—Puréed prunes, top milk.

Second Day.

Morning—Canned pears, Wheatena with milk and sugar, soft cooked egg, toast and butter, milk.

10 O'Clock—Baked custard, malted
milk.

Noon—Cream of pea soup, poached egg on toast, gelatin and top milk.

3 O'Clock—Gelatine and top milk.

Evening—Milk toast, puréed carrots, toast and butter, prune whip, cream.

8:30 O'Clock—Graham crackers, pur-eased apricots, milk.

Third Day.

Morning—Canned apricots, strained oatmeal with milk and sugar, toast and butter, milk.

10 O'Clock—Egg nog, baked apple without skin.

Fourth Day.

Morning—Puréed prunes, Pettijohns with milk and sugar, toast and butter, coconut.

10 O'Clock—Buttermilk, custard, Noo—Coddled egg, puréed asparagus, prine whip, milk and cream.

3 O'Clock—Junket, canned pears.

Evening—Rice and milk, puréed carrots, toast and butter, apple sauce,
milk.

8:30 O'Clock—Canned pears, granola crackers, milk.

Fifth Day.

Morning—Puréed apricots, Ralston's with milk and sugar, toast and butter,
milk.

10 O'Clock—Milk and cream, apple sauce.

Noon—Cream of pea soup, poached eggs on toast, rice with fruit sauce,
milk.

3 O'Clock—Junket, canned pears.

Evening—Rice and milk, puréed carrots, toast and butter, apple sauce,
milk.

8:30 O'Clock—Applesauce, toast, milk.

Sixth Day.

Morning—Baked apple without skin, cormel with milk and sugar, toast and butter, milk.

10 O'Clock—Baked custard, milk.

Noon—Puréed spinach, soft cooked eggs, toast and butter, rice pudding,
milk.

3 O'Clock—Ice cream, cocoa.

Evening—Cream of spinach soup, canned peaches, poached egg on toast,
milk.

8:30 O'Clock—Graham crackers, canned peaches, cream, toast, milk.

Seventh Day.

Morning—Canned peaches, sugar, milk, breakfast food with milk and sugar,
toast and butter, milk.

10 O'Clock—Rice pudding with top
milk.

Noon—Cream of corn soup, puréed spinach, toast and butter, custard,
milk.

3 O'Clock—Malted milk, custard.

Evening—Poached eggs on toast, pureed corn, toast and butter, apple sauce, cocoa.

8:30 O'Clock—Graham crackers, taipoca cream, cocoa.

Atlanta, Ga.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

Sailors.

Three.

The "Magyarsag" describes the attempt to be made by three Hungarians to sail to New York in a boat which they are now preparing to cross. Their names are Moses Varga, Laszlo Toth and Istvan Horvath, two iron workers and a lock-smith. The boat will be eight metres long and two metres wide. The money with which the materials have been bought has been saved from the workmen's wages but the sailor, which will be present from a Hungarian motor factory. Two masts will be set up on the Danube to the Black sea, through the Bosphorus and along the Mediterranean to Gibraltar, whence they will follow the ordinary route of steamship navigation.

It can now be said with every confidence that the offensiveness and growing unpopularity of our national prohibition policy "as is" has grown out of the past attitudes and demands of those who benefit from them. That prohibition has not been as successful in operation as was expected by its proponents and adherents is due in the greater measure to the work of the organized prohibition leaders in evidence.

The Basis for Prohibition.

It should be held in memory that the basis for prohibition, which authorized the proposal of it as a national policy is the sovereign right of the people, through their government, to regulate or to prohibit any form of commerce among them.

Every organized people since the invention of government has had that right and exerted that power by law and by force. It is the right of the people to prohibit or to allow what they see fit.

It is on that general understanding that prohibition was projected for the purpose of ending a public commerce that all men knew was the particularly destructive of many intolerable and destructive evils among the people of the nation.

Ending a Trade, Not a Taste.

All early efforts in liquor prohibition were aimed at a trade and had no purpose whatever to prohibit an article for liquor, a thing manifestly beyond the reach of any law of God or man.

The National Law Goes too Far.

In plain truth, the country is learning what it is that prohibition is all about and that the Volstead law, goes too far beyond the purpose of the 18th amendment and essays to do what no army or navy can accomplish.

The national power and resources of the United States are obviously not sufficient to make prohibition a success. The Anti-Saloon League was organized to put the saloons out of the business of making drunkards wholesale and retail, with the result that the league has been successful in abolishing the saloons of the country.

The Infracte transport and trade in intoxicating liquors are obviously not within the jurisdiction of congress but the states have the power to make laws to prohibit the importation of intoxicating liquors.

HOLLYWOOD IN PERSON

BY MOLLIE MERRICK

LOOKING AND LISTENING

BY SAM W. SMALL.

Signs That Favor Bringing Prohibition Into Practical Operations.

The new-old platform of the Anti-Saloon League and Women's Christian Temperance Union is now formally promulgated by the united dry organizations of the country. It is a sign of returning common sense to a large number of the citizens that for a decade past has been motivated by theories and aims that assumed the folly and fury of fanaticism.

It can now be said with every confidence that the offensiveness and growing unpopularity of our national prohibition policy "as is" has grown out of the past attitudes and demands of those who benefit from them. That prohibition has not been as successful
in operation as was expected by its proponents and adherents is due in the greater measure to the work of the organized prohibition leaders in evidence

SPORTS SECTION

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

THREE PAGES.

WAYWARD BOYE BOSWELLED BY Ed Danforth

Wayward Adopts 'Bitsy' Grant

Wayward Boye, the Mental Marble, got in late yesterday afternoon from Kansas City, too late to attend the luncheon given Bitsy Grant, national clay court champion, by Atlanta admirers.

Wayward worked his way home by stopping off in towns along the way and giving tennis lessons. After watching Grant play through that tournament, Wayward learned enough—well, to win a national championship, if you ask me.

"Just tell everybody that we won with something to spare," Wayward told me last night. "The story that Bitsy lost ten pounds was the bunk. Why, we finished a bit out of breath to be sure, but by the time we had finished our shower, we were looking up train schedules for Memphis. And if we didn't rush on to Memphis and play some more tennis, I'm all sorts."

"We are going to take a few spins over turf courts and get readjusted to the slower rebounds and then enter the United States singles at Forest Hills in September."

Little is known of the part Wayward played in helping Grant win at Kansas City. Wayward was reporting the matches for the Kansas City Times. That is, he said "Yes" to the Times tennis expert when asked "Was that outside?"

Otherwise while Bitsy played, Wayward shivered and shook and eventually pulled Bitsy over.

"Nothing can stop us," Wayward remarked during the final set of the final match. "Bitsy" out there on the court was shedding perspiration like a revolving lawn sprinkler, but had nothing to do but hit the ball back and forth. Wayward did all the suffering—and won the championship.

GETTING US TOLD.

A. L. Gordon, apparently an old-time baseball fan (a genus, alas, rapidly becoming extinct), writes to this desk on Ansley hotel stationery on two subjects. He says that Fred Tenney broke in with the Boston Nationals as a left-handed catcher—"or does Tenney's name mean anything now?" he adds.

Then he takes issue with a Constitution sports writer who wrote something about the days when the Brooklyn pitching staff was made up of "Dazzy Vance and a lot of guys named Joe."

Mr. Gordon says that Brooklyn always had good pitching (except last year) and that Vance had plenty of assistance from Grimes, Petty, Mitchell, McWeeney and Clark.

"You sport scribbling boys here had better get you some reference books on topics you discuss"—Mr. Gordon closes his letter with that suggestion.

BUSINESS OF LEARNING.

And a fine idea it is. Darned good advice to all of us.

In fact, I got a record book and went into the lifetime records of the pitchers, Vance, Grimes, Petty, Mitchell and Clark, who were mentioned in Mr. Gordon's letter.

Doug McWeeney's life record was not given in the list of major league "stars" in the book at hand. I learned plenty, too.

VANCE AND HIS HELPERS.

Dazzy Vance pitched for Brooklyn from 1922 to 1929 (for purposes of discussion the 1930 records are not considered), and that was the period referred to by The Constitution sports writer when he mentioned "Vance and a lot of guys named Joe."

Well, let's see:

Burleigh Grimes helped Dazzy win games for Brooklyn from 1922 through 1926. But Vance outpitched Grimes every year save one. For the five-year period Vance's record in games won and lost is 95-52-646 and Grimes' record for the period is 84-77-522.

Jess Petty "helped" Vance from 1925 through 1928. Their comparative record for that period was Vance 69-44-611; Petty 54-59-478. In other words, Jess was a lot of help when he was on the bench.

Clarence Mitchell was on the club with Vance in but one year, 1922. That was the year Dazzy broke in. That year Vance clocked 18-12-600 and Mitchell 0-0-0. Clarence may have encouraged Dazzy lots from the bench.

Watson Clark was a stable mate of Vance from 1922 to through 1929, but did very little work. In those years Vance registered 52-38-578, Clark 35-30-538.

VANCE DOMINATED BROOKLYN MOUND CORPS.

This suggestion of looking up the records was a good one. It shows just how completely the old Dazzler has dominated the Brooklyn pitching situation since 1922. He came on when Grimes was at the height of his career. He has been the mainstay; the other boys might as well have been named Joe.

Perhaps it would have been better to say "Vance and a man named Burleigh"—but then old Burleigh left in 1926 and since then the Dazzler and Brooklyn have been synonymous.

On the whole, I think the phrase "Vance and a lot of guys named Joe" was not a bad one; it expresses the idea quite neatly.

And may I thank Mr. Gordon for suggesting the record book idea. Nowadays sports writers cannot possibly carry the complete records of six or seven major sports in their heads; in other days there was but ONE sport and it was easy.

The old record book is the fair-haired boy friend of latter day writers and they really ought to use it often.

THE OLD GUARD DIES.

There were days not so far gone when a casual statement that might be interpreted as belittling a baseball team or players would have brought a dozen scornful letters to the desk of the sporting editor.

The younger generation now spends its time on Tom Thumb golf courses and in the rumble seats of flivvers instead of committing to memory the baseball news of the day and taking a pride in performing feats of memory in fanning parties.

Even one of my tender age can remember when fist fights developed over the relative pitching ability of—well, whatever the names of the Giant and the Athletics pitchers were in those days.

And mark well—when the last old-time fan goes into the lethal showers, baseball will expire—unless this night baseball racket can save the cause.

Crackers Blast 6 Home Runs and Beat Vols, 19-6

STRIBLING LEADS 'HEAVY' PARADE

CRACKERS SWAT SIX HOME RUNS IN 19-6 VICTORY

Four Circuit Blows Come in Ninth; Return Home Today.

Double-Header Opens Series Here

Atlanta will open a six-game series with the New Orleans Pelicans with a double-header at Spiller field at 2:15 o'clock this afternoon.

The six games will be played in four days, making it necessary for another double-header during the latter part of the week. Definite date for the second double-header had not been set Tuesday night.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 29—Stealing from the Vol ammunition rack the destructive weapon that so often has caused their own defeat on the local battle field, the Crackers from Atlanta opened fire and poured the volley of six home runs into the Rowdies Tuesday afternoon to score a 19-to-6 victory and split the two-game series.

In a short-right-field fence that time and again has aided the Volunteers in emerging triumphant, turned traitor today as it laughingly watched half a dozen blows sail surely into the sector back of Fourth avenue. Roy Carlyle and Mule Shirley autographed a couple each, while Bill Barrett and Bobby Lamotte did the little act once.

Riding on the crest of his teammates' 18-hit wave, the venerable yet erect Ray Stribling swatted the first home run in early victory, allowing 14 hits that were held to a total of six runs. Half of this number resulted from Jim Poole's thirty-eighth home run of the season with two mates aboard.

Although they scored a quartet of tallies before the fourth frame, it was not until this stanza that the Dobbins began to lace the pill outside the park.

FIRST BLOW.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

The tall Georgian's blow wrote finis for Chuck Willis, who started on the hill for Mr. Rowland, and young Bill Droll received him.

Now in the following five innings, exactly ten runs were scored off the slender right-hander and all came as a result of home runs.

SHIRLEY'S FIRST.

Shirley soaked his first one in the ninth with two on, while four in the ninth produced seven markers.

The Vols were never in the ball game to 4 to 3 being the closest score after the fourth inning.

Red Barron had an agreeable day on the bases, scoring four times and pumping out three bingles.

Now in the following five innings, exactly ten runs were scored off the slender right-hander and all came as a result of home runs.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

FIRST BLOW.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY'S GAMES.

After Sam Langford had tallied two bobbles with a single to center, Charles filed a double-header and Roy Carlyle crashed his first circuit clout to bring the couple across in front of him.

TODAY

Bill Tilden Says U. S. Is Three Years Away From Davis Cup

SINGLES STAR BADLY NEEDED TO 'MAKE' TEAM

Big Bill Finds Wilmer Allison's Play Disappointing.

By William T. Tilden, II.

(Copyright, 1930, by The Constitution and the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

PARIS, July 29.—The Davis cup competition is over and though the amateur rule of the United States Lawn Tennis Association prevents me from writing of the recent Davis cup matches before Wednesday, I can write of the prospects for next year, of our problems and how the present points for the future.

One cannot either feel surprised or discredited when Fred Perry, Cochet and Cochet at their best are entitled successfully to defend the cup against any nation. However, I feel the United States must recognize that progress has been made along the road to regain the cup.

Captain Fitz-Eugene Dixon has gone a long way in his development of a world-wide record in the challenge round show. It is not of one match but of the year that one must base predictions for the future.

GOOD PROMISE.

Our young team has shown great promise during its entire European trip. George Lott, after a good, if not a great, Wimbledon start, proved his merit, and his decided improvement this year by his magnificent efforts at the Davis cup. There is a growth of match temperament, a maturity to his game, that points toward his value for future years. It is not only his strokes, but his judgment that has gone forward this season.

He has been the outstanding figure of the Allison-Van Ryn team. I feel the Allison-Van Ryn team, which has definitely established him as a real match player who may go far in the coming years. He has some technical defects in his game to remedy, but none of them are serious and all easy to overcome.

ALLISON SLUMPS.

Wilmer Allison has been the hero of Wimbledon and the disappointment of the Davis cup play in Europe. The reaction that struck him in France after a great work in England was too great for him to come up to the level he was far from impressing at any time. He proved his courage, but he also proved he was prone to dangerous and indefinitely long lapses into mediocre tennis, out of which he cannot pull himself.

John Dorn is possibly going out of international tennis this year due to private reasons. Neither Bell nor Mangin showed any outstanding prospects for the future, although both did well.

Our problem lies around Lott, Van Ryn and Allison. Here is the basis for next year's Davis cup team. We must build on Lott's confidence and his growing sense of control. Until he is a singles player as well as a great doubles asset for years to come. We also need to build up another singles star.

NEED ANOTHER.

Personally, while Allison is good and at times great, I fear he is too uncertain to be a fixture. John Van Ryn has all the qualifications if he can plug a few holes in his stroke equipment. We must, however, have a think the most logical player to develop into our second singles player is Junior Coen, if he and the Davis cup officials find a basis of mutual confidence. Certainly Coen is the greatest potential singles star in the United States and all he needs is intelligent development and encouragement.

As the situation appears to me now it will be at least three years before the United States can hope to win back the Davis cup.

TWENTY NATIONS.

Twenty nations had representatives at the meeting of the International Amateur Swimming Federation in Berlin.

Caddy Wins Meet, Won't Help Horton

MINNEAPOLIS, July 29.—(P)—Caddy is hardly in keeping with the dignity of a golf champion. Therefore, Horton Smith, professional of Cranston, N. Y., has lost a good caddy for the $10,000 open tournament scheduled for St. Paul, August 15-17.

Pat Sawyer, 17-year-old caddy of Minneapolis, won the state amateur tournament at Rochester, Minn., last week. When Smith was at Minneapolis for the national open three weeks ago, young Sawyer promised to caddy for him at the St. Paul open. But now Pat has decided to become a contestant in the open.

MATMEN READY FOR BOUTS HERE

Steinborn, Jones, Miller and Paxos Scheduled at Spiller's Thursday.

Paul Jones, who meets John Paxos here Thursday night at Spiller's in a finish wrestling match, will arrive here today.

Jones' match of Monday night, when he was knocked senseless for a period of a half hour in a match with London's Eddie Hodge, the more than enough to get another chance. Other promoters offered a large purse to get the match again but Atlanta will have it if Jones wins Thursday.

Paxos, one of the best of the Greek wrestlers, is also expected in today. The two men will meet in a two-hour match. Police Gazette rules governing the bout.

While main interest centers in the Jones-Paxos match the public is evidencing considerable interest in the big-windup which brings in Mike Steinborn and Mike Miller. Miller has been here in training for two days.

Miller is sure to make friends among the ex-servicemen of the city. He served during the World War, being in service for four years. It was then that he took up wrestling and won the title in the inter-army games.

Since then he has won the American Legion belt, which he still holds, and has advanced in the professional game until he is considered a real contender.

His opponent will be Milo Steinborn, the strongest wrestler in the game. Steinborn, who breaks holds by the tremendous strength he has, always has a large following. The big fellow is good for an hour of real wrestling any time. After that he tires and the tomfoolery begins.

But for an hour he is next to impossible to pin him. He tossed 200-pound men around him.

A short preliminary will open the program. Tickets are on sale at the Piedmont Hatters and at the Candler Building Soda Fountain.

Baseball League Includes 3 Counties

McDONOUGH, Ga., July 29.—(P)—Frankie Wine, 162-pound Montana pitcher, is hitting .400 of Akers, Ohio, won a technical knock-out over Jarvis Smothers, Winston-Salem, 170-pounder, after 20 seconds of fighting in the ninth round at the August 20, Ola vs. Livingston-Akron, Ola vs. Porterdale, August 10, Ola vs. Porterdale; August 10, Ola vs. Livingston; August 20, Ola vs. Livingston; August 20, Ola vs. Porterdale.

FRANKIE WINE WINS.

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., July 29.—(P)—Frankie Wine, 162-pound Montana pitcher, is hitting .400 of Akers, Ohio, won a technical knock-out over Jarvis Smothers, Winston-Salem, 170-pounder, after 20 seconds of fighting in the ninth round at the August 20, Ola vs. Livingston-Akron, Ola vs. Porterdale, August 10, Ola vs. Porterdale; August 10, Ola vs. Livingston; August 20, Ola vs. Livingston; August 20, Ola vs. Porterdale.

Twenty nations had representatives at the meeting of the International Amateur Swimming Federation in Berlin.

BLACK BEATEN IN FIRST ROUND AT CAPITAL CITY

Ison Wins, 1 Up; East Lake Golfers Are Busy. Turney Starts Today.

Jim Ison's 1 up victory over Dave Black, Georgia state amateur champion, and Fred Minnick's victory over Robin Adair by the same count, featured Tuesday's play on the Capital City Club course in the first round of the annual club championship tournament. Ison's victory was an upset of the favorite, Minnick.

Black was one of the favorites to win the crown now worn by Dick Garlington, but his play Tuesday was not the brand of golf he exhibited two weeks ago to win the state crown on the East Lake course.

Fred Minnick played a spectacular game to defeat Robin Adair, who has been playing unusually well golf recently. The match was unusually close from the very beginning.

Other matches on the Capital City course Tuesday in the championship flight were:

Charles Nunnally defeated Robert Wadsworth, 1 up; Fred McCallum defeated Brooks Mill, 4 and Charles Daniels, Jr., defeated Jack Lawless, 5-3.

FIRST FLIGHT.

Carver Baker defeated K. H. Hancock, 1 up; George Grant defeated T. H. Pitts, 2 up; George Gandy defeated Harry Wood-Owens, 1 up; and Sam Mangian defeated Carroll Latimer, Jr., 1 up.

SECOND FLIGHT.

Dr. Harry Root defeated J. L. Beeson, 2-1; William Healey defeated F. H. Booser, 2-1; H. L. Holmes defeated P. L. Cleett, 1 up; R. L. Holmes defeated George McCaffrey, 5-4.

Two matches have been completed in the third flight, with Forrest Adair, 1 up, defeating Tom Shaffer, 1 up; and R. P. Hale, Jr., 2 up.

Five Matches At East Lake.

Five matches were completed Tuesday on the Capital City course in the annual Lathan and Atkins trophy tournament. J. A. Harkness defeated R. B. Hartzog, 5-4; L. C. Murphy defeated Steve Hartney, 3-1; M. C. Livingston defeated Forrest Adair, Jr., 1 up; P. G. Lombard, defeated W. W. Roberts, 4-3, and Henry Fullbright defeated J. L. Morris, 6-4.

The remainder of the first round matches are scheduled to be completed today.

Harris Wins, 1 Up, At Druid Hills.

George N. Harris' one up victory over George Argoe on the nineteenth green was a feature match Tuesday on the Druid Hills course in the first round of the annual President's trophy golf tournament. It was an unusually close and interesting match, with neither player having a decided advantage.

THURSTON'S RETURN.

Truxton Hare, of Pennsylvania, is the other all-time guard linked up with Heffelfinger. Which recalls the fact that Adam Walsh, coaching the Yale line, thinks Hare is one of the greatest guards he has ever seen on a football field. He was not physically fit last fall, but he was a tornado as long as he could stand around.

GREATEST GUARDS.

Truxton Hare, of Pennsylvania, is the other all-time guard linked up with Heffelfinger. Which recalls the fact that Adam Walsh, coaching the Yale line, thinks Hare is one of the greatest guards he has ever seen on a football field. He was not physically fit last fall, but he was a tornado as long as he could stand around.

NOVEL TOURNEY.

Harry Stephens has announced another novel tournament for Druid Hills players. It will start August 1 and continue through the month.

A set of three matched wood clubs will be given to the player who makes the lowest net score during the month. Every time a round is played the player must turn in his card to the professional.

NOVEL TOURNEY.

Harry Stephens has announced another novel tournament for Druid Hills players. It will start August 1 and continue through the month.

A set of three matched wood clubs will be given to the player who makes the lowest net score during the month. Every time a round is played the player must turn in his card to the professional.

First Rounds Must End Today.

Atlanta golfers are scheduled to put in a busy afternoon today as four tournaments are slated end first round matches and another is scheduled to start.

At the annual Forrest Hills Club championship tournament will start this afternoon and one week will be allowed for each round of play.

Play in the annual Forrest Hills Club championship tournament will start this afternoon and one week will be allowed for each round of play.

It might add in passing that this undergraduate was not registered at Notre Dame. Notre Dame also has its other sports, but at South Bend football is still football.

British invaders soon begin to arrive by land and sea, but there will be no H. Scott enrolled on these next occasions. Which might make a big difference.

(Copyright, 1930, by The Constitution and the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

the SPORTSLIGHT Grantland Rice

STIRBLING AGAIN.

It would not surprise a large number of fight followers, especially those living in Macon, Chicago and London, if Stirbling was the next challenger sent against Max Schmeling.

The Georgian has been one of the enigmas of sport. He looked to be on his way to a championship several years ago when he was barely 21. Then he slipped back about 30 kilometers after the Berleben affair. He came along once more two years ago and dropped a close decision to Jack Sharkey in a slow going contest. That setback seemed to be the end.

But here he is back again in the front rank with two quick knockouts over Von Porat and Scott. Not that Von Porat and Scott are listed among the mighty of the world. But the former was well rated and it took an expert marksman to stop Scott without some mention of a foul.

Stirbling, Campolo and Sharkey are now the three leading candidates for the Schmeling coronet. In one way or another they will be led into action and the survivor will get the next championship shot. This will take care of a September show as well as another Florida winter party. And the promotee has discovered that the presence of Stirbling makes a big difference in Florida gate receipts.

In his last few starts Stirbling seems to have found the aggressiveness needed to be a champion. If he can carry this element with him up the road, he will be the best man in the field. He has developed a smacking left hand and this linked to a dangerous right uppercut leaves him equipped with two guns. He has been a long time on the way, but there is a chance now that he has arrived. He has the stuff if he will only shoot it.

ONE OF THE BEST.

John De Witt, one of Princeton's all-American members, who died on Monday, must be listed as one of the greatest of Nassau's football men. He was not only a fine guard, but an able kicker and an able leader. It was his long place kick that beat Yale many years ago where the Blue looked to be an easy winner with only a few seconds left.

De Witt was big, fast and aggressive. He could do more than a few things on a football field and do them well. The list of former gridiron notables is dwindling rapidly: Eckersall, Brinck Thorne—and now John De Witt, all in a few months.

ANOTHER NOTABLE.

Reference to old time football stars recalls a vast shadow that fell across the typewriter at Interlachen during the recent open golf championship. I looked up and there was Pudge Heffelfinger, still looking as if he could step into hard action tomorrow on any field. Pudge is still the first nominee for all-time all-American guard. He was on Walter Camp's teams of '89, '90 and '91.

At the age of 50 he was still able to wreck a big Yale line, taking one side at a time, when he was brought back to coach.

At the age of 51 he was still playing football and even then he was a little more than most of the professional talent could handle.

When Heff was 45, coaching the Yale line, he could come out from his guard position at much greater speed than any of the undergraduate stars could show. He was as quick as a big cat, with terrific strength in his arms and his legs. He could have led the interference from a guard position on almost any team when he was 50 years old. Those who used to wonder whether the old-timers had been overplayed admitted that Pudge Heffelfinger was as good at 20 or 21 as he was at 45 that he belonged on top.

GREATEST GUARDS.

Truxton Hare, of Pennsylvania, is the other all-time guard linked up with Heffelfinger. Which recalls the fact that Adam Walsh, coaching the Yale line, thinks Hare is one of the greatest guards he has ever seen on a football field. He was not physically fit last fall, but he was a tornado as long as he could stand around.

THURSTON'S RETURN.

It is not only the addition of other victories, which he is turning in, but there is added respect for such pitchers as Vance and Clark, who need all the intermissions they can get. The next western trip of the Dodgers and the next home stand of the Cubs will tell a big part of the pennant story for 1930, so far as the National league is concerned. And the vital part may come when the Cubs and Dodgers meet.

"If anyone thinks that most undergraduates," writes one of them, "are all steamed up over football he has another guess coming. Most of us, if steamed up at all, are steamed up about our game, whatever it is—golf, tennis, swimming, track, etc.

Most of us know that the football star is well overplayed for what he contributes in comparison with the stars in other sports. But most of us also know that we get far more fun from our sports than any football player does. Which is still something."

I might add in passing that this undergraduate was not registered at Notre Dame. Notre Dame also has its other sports, but at South Bend football is still football.

British invaders soon begin to arrive by land and sea, but there will be no H. Scott enrolled on these next occasions. Which might make a big difference.

(Copyright, 1930, by The Constitution and the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

'Sunny Jim' Continues Hitting; Has 38 Homers

By Ralph McGill.

Far be it from me to bring back any memories that sear and burn the breast of Mr. Rell J. Spiller, of the Crackers, but the fact remains that short fence or no short fence, this fellow Jim Poole is holding a heap of home runs.

It was his blow that beat the Crackers in their 13-to-12 defeat of Monday in the Nashville park and that home run happened to be number 37. He came back with number 38 Tuesday.

Jim Poole has hit so many home runs that the Nashville baseball writers refer to him as "Sunny Jim." Now, when Jim Poole was in Atlanta in the spring of 1928 he was not sunny at all. Nor had he been in the summer of 1928. He was a very dour sort of man with a disposition which was as dark as his sunburned face.

It was after this that the Crackers turned him out, unwanted and alone. It was a cold spring, but it did not stay cold very long. The Vols, who would have none of him, took him into their camp.

FENCE HELPS.

It was found that the short right-field fence, which is just a hop, skip and jump from home plate to Sulphur Dell,

Giants Gain in National Race by Winning as Cubs, Robins Fail

HUBBELL HURS
GOTHAM TEAM
TO 11-5 VICTORY

Braves Snap Bird Streak
While Reds Jinx
Bruins.

The New York Giants gained a full game in the National league race Tuesday by defeating the Phillies while Brooklyn's six-game winning streak was broken and the Chicago Cubs once more were jinxed by the Cincinnati Reds.

By winning from the Phillies, 11-5, the Giants increased their winning lead over the third-place New York club to 5 1/2 games. Carl Hubbell pitched for the Giants, winning his ninth game of the season.

George Sisler's hitting enabled the Boston Braves to win from Brooklyn, 4-3, in the ninth. Eddie Peeler's double accounted for the Red's winning run. Hack Wilson hit his 33rd home run of the season with Cuyler on base.

Lloyd Waner's single in the ninth drove in Suhr and Brol and enabled Pittsburgh to win from the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-5. Ray Kremer, although rapped for 14 hits, won his 13th victory, 5-3.

GIANTS 11, PHILS 5.

PHILA. ab.h.p.o.s. N.YORK. ab.h.p.o.s.
Thompson, b. 5 0 0 3 Hubbell, b. 4 0 2 1
Southern, c. 4 1 3 0 Leach, r. 4 5 2 4
Duffy, p. 4 0 0 0 Bell, s. 4 0 2 0
Klein, r. 4 2 1 0 Terry, b. 4 1 5 0
Sherlock, b. 4 2 1 0 Orr, r. 3 2 2 0
Renss., b. 4 0 0 0
Watson, b. 4 0 0 0 Marshall, s. 4 1 9 1
Thynow, s. 3 1 0 0 Rootter, c. 4 1 9 1
Benge, p. 1 0 0 0 Hubbell, p. 4 1 0 1
Nash, p. 2 1 0 0
Frith, p. 1 0 0 0

Totals 36 20 24 16 Totals 35 11 27 5

Xslated for Nichols in ninth.

Philadelphia 010 120 300 -5

New York 034 100 000 -5

Bronx, Southern, Klein, Renss.

Thevenow, Critt, Leach, 2; Lindstrom, 2; Terry, Ott, 2; Hogan, Rootter, Hause; error, 2; Watson, 2; Brol, 2; Brol;

Renss., Ott, 2; Rootter, Hogan, 2; Sherlock,

Terry, O'Don, 2; Lindstrom, two-base hits,

Alvarez, 2; Watson, 2; Brol, 2; Brol;

Renss., Ott; Rootter, O'Don; stolen bases,

Leach, Ott; sacrifice, Terry; double play,

Hubbell, Ott; error, Watson, 2; Brol on balls,

New York, 2; Philadelphia, 2; runs on balls,

Benge, 2; Hubbell, 1; Nichols, 2; struck out, by Hubbell, 6; hits, 1; errors, 2; wild pitch, 2; walks, 5; 5 1/2 innings;

wild pitch, Benge; losing pitcher, Benge;

umpires, Moran, McGraw and Clarke. Time of game, 1:50.

BUGS 5; CARD 5.

ST. LOUIS ab.h.p.o.s. PITTS ab.h.p.o.s.

Douglas, c. 5 2 0 0 Walker, r. 4 2 2 0

Frisch, b. 4 2 3 0 Gehringer, b. 4 0 2 4

Fisher, c. 4 1 4 0 Klem, r. 4 2 2 2

Hafey, r. 4 0 0 0 Koenig, s. 4 0 2 2

Watkins, b. 5 3 1 0 Hartnett, s. 4 0 2 2

Gelbart, s. 4 0 0 0 Blakely, b. 4 0 2 2

Wilson, p. 2 1 0 0 Hobe, r. 4 1 0 0

McNamee, p. 0 0 0 0 Huggins, b. 4 2 0 0

Gibbons, p. 0 0 0 0 Higgins, b. 2 1 0 0

Totals 38 14 25 17 Totals 34 21 27 11

Xslated for Rhem in eighth.

Xslated for Kremer in ninth.

Pittsburgh 000 102 000 102-6

Runs, Douthit, Frisch, 2; Watkins, Wilson, 2;

L. Van, Gilbert, Graham, 2; Traylor, runs batted, in, Comiskey, P. Waner, 2; Duthit;

Watkins, Frisch, Koenig, 2; Waner, 2;

Subr, High, 2; Hartnett, 2; Hobe, 2;

Hafey, 3; three-base hits, Comiskey, P.

Watson, Blakely, Frisch, P. Waner, 2;

Frisch, P. Waner, 2; Blakely, 2; Hartnett, Watkins, Hartnett, 2; Blakely, 2; Hartnett;

Wat

WORK AND PLAY KEEP 'RED HATS' FIT FOR DRILLS

Varied Jobs Used as "Means To End" by Georgians.

ATHENS, Ga., July 29.—The boys who will make up the 1930 University of Georgia football team are using widely varying means of getting themselves in shape for the coming grind, as witness what just a few of the boys are doing.

George Davis, Georgia's great little quarterback, and one of the fastest men in the Southern conference when it comes to broken field running, and "Catfish" Smith are spending the summer in New York city, at work.

Austin and Catfish, who are mates during the school year, are working together and doing tricks and performing quite proficient in the art of juggling crates.

With the hot weather around New York and the strength and dexterity required to transport four crates of drinks with only two hands, the two Bulldogs should be ready to go when Mchre calls them in to play football.

Six of the boys are taking it easy in New York, less in so far as real hard work is concerned. But to hear the boys themselves tell it, they are working like Trojans. Jack (The Ripper) Roberts, Tex Collins, Buster Mott, Sam Brown, Ed Davis and Spies Eberhardt are having the time of their lives in summer school, merely having to attend classes four hours a day and study four. After sleeping and eating ten hours, the boys have the rest of the time to loaf. In they are taking workouts in the University gym.

Spurgeon Chandler, who buried passes and punted for the football team last year and who also burled for Coach Bill White's baseball team, is taking a rest cure. Spurgeon is up in his old home town, Gainesville, eating, sleeping and fishing.

Captain-elect Herb Maifett and Bobby Rose, the huge tackle from south Georgia, are two of the boys who are absolutely certain to be in shape for the season. Herb and Bobby spent the first six weeks of the summer at Camp McClellan, Alabama, where they indulged in six hours of drilling, running, rifle practice, clean iron work and kitchen police. Herb soaked his way to the heavyweight championship of the camp as a side line.

Red Maddox and Red Leathers, the million-dollar guard combination, are not working together this summer, but both have rather hot jobs.

Leathers is working in Athens in the tobacco fields and Leathers down in south Georgia working in the tobacco fields and when the season opens he will begin hauling the weed around the warehouse floors in 200-pound lots.

John Davidson and Armin Waugh, the two pals of Mchre's backfield, are in Atlanta. Waugh is helping in his father's chemical business, and a little bit of advice is expected to report in the next few weeks. Davidson is working for the state highway department and there is no question about his being in shape when he reports.

Spero Tassapoulos has returned to his home at Savannah, and has a job in a fruit wholesale house there, making his preparations to hold down the east Georgia's home in the fall next season. After a few big bunches of bananas around for a few weeks Spero expects to have no trouble in throwing a football back of the line.

Marion Dickens and Sam Brown are co-workers in a drayage company, Dickens-Brown Trucking Company—We Haul Trucks.

Tiger Bennett, who plays around at night, has been one of recent terpsichoreans at Gainesville for a time. After two weeks of managing the terpsichoreans, Tiger resigned his post and went back to the farm, saying that he'd rather the whole Yale team fell on him than try to get those terpsichoreans to race. Now he's down on his farm near Cleartown, and seems content to follow the plow and plow the remnants of the sun's ultra-violet rays.

TURF SEASON SET TO OPEN

Howell Is Elected
President of Tars

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y., July 29.—(Special)—Thousands of horse lovers are wending their way for the opening of the race season here tomorrow.

Ever since 1863 Saratoga has been the home beautiful of the sport of kings, and 1930 will be no different. Decorations if on parade the little town of 15,000 on the outskirts of the Berkshire mountains tomorrow becomes the scene of some 75,000 people for the month of August.

Kings of finance, men and women well known in national and state politics and society mingle here on elaborate Broadway with but one topic for discussion—the track.

The track, more beautiful than ever with its spacious lawns and flower-covered grandstand, clubhouse and infield, is unique in the racing world.

Before the final hoof beats on the track 39 stable features will be run and nearly one-half million dollars distributed in purses. As in former years the Finger Lakes will be the track, with feature on the opening day. Two hundred and fifty-two juveniles are eligible to start in the five and one-half furlong dash, but not more than 10 are expected to face the barrier.

Harry Payne Whitney's Equipoise is the favorite, if he decides to appear in the first race.

Coupled with the Flash as an attraction for the first day will be the twenty-eighth running of the $5,000 Saratoga Handicap over a mile and a quarter. Sixty-three older horses were nominated for this event.

Viewing with the races for the financial interest of the meeting will be the first year in a salaried place where the socially elite gather in the evening to bid thousands of dollars on what looks to be a promising yearling. They pay more than a million dollars at the auction mart each year for the potential champions, but a record price is expected this year with 12 yearlings and daughters of Sir Gallahad III.

Two hundred and fifty-two juveniles are eligible to start in the five and one-half furlong dash, but not more than 10 are expected to face the barrier.

Harry Payne Whitney's Equipoise is the favorite, if he decides to appear in the first race.

TWO DAYS OF RACING SET FOR SENECAS LAKE

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 29.—(Special)—Harr B. Howell, local businessman, was elevated to the presidency of the Jacksonville Baseball Club, Inc., operators of the Southeastern league franchise here, at a meeting of stockholders tonight.

Under the previous administration Howell, as vice president and his promotion was expected since the resignation of John Love Wilkes as president.

George L. Lemon was retained as secretary and treasurer while Mark H. Lillard was named vice president. The board of directors will include Leon T. Cheek, Mr. Howell, Mr. Lillard, J. Turner Butler, Mr. Lemon, H. Dowling and Richard W. "Rube" Marquard, manager of the Tars.

The change in officers followed a reorganization after the franchise was turned over to the league. The franchise has been back in Mr. Lemon's hands for several days and announced the new directorate withheld until the organization was placed on a sound financial basis.

ELBERT COUNTY MAN DIES OF CRASH HURTS

ELBERTON, Ga., July 29.—(Special)—In an automobile accident near Conestee, below Elberton, Monday, M. D. Howell and his son were painfully hurt and Jean Allen received injuries from which he died early this morning. Jones was driving toward Elberton when the automobile driven by Randall came into the road ahead of him. Both automobiles were demolished.

Jones was brought to the Elbert County hospital and died without regaining consciousness. He was unmarried and about 25 years old.

Harry Payne Whitney's Equipoise is the favorite, if he decides to appear in the first race.

Coupled with the Flash as an attraction for the first day will be the twenty-eighth running of the $5,000 Saratoga Handicap over a mile and a quarter. Sixty-three older horses were nominated for this event.

Viewing with the races for the financial interest of the meeting will be the first year in a salaried place where the socially elite gather in the evening to bid thousands of dollars on what looks to be a promising yearling. They pay more than a million dollars at the auction mart each year for the potential champions, but a record price is expected this year with 12 yearlings and daughters of Sir Gallahad III.

Two hundred and fifty-two juveniles are eligible to start in the five and one-half furlong dash, but not more than 10 are expected to face the barrier.

Harry Payne Whitney's Equipoise is the favorite, if he decides to appear in the first race.

ACME CLASS PLAYS
DOUGLASVILLE NINE

Douglasville will be invaded by the ball players of the Acme Class for their regular midweek game and Manager Stiles Glass hopes to annex the title of champion of the class.

On Friday, August 22, events will be run off for Class B and C drivers in all four of the racing divisions.

On Saturday, August 23, events will together with Class F and G drivers in all four divisions. A special race for amateurs using displacement boats will also be held. On Saturday, the third annual Finger lakes 100-mile marathon will be staged.

ACME CLASS PLAYS
DOUGLASVILLE NINE

GENEVA, N.Y., July 29.—Two days of outdoor racing will be offered to eastern onboard drivers on Saturday, Aug. 1, at Seneca Lake, which has posted $1,500 in cash and trophy prizes for five race events and a 100-mile marathon.

Revival Services in Sparta.

SPARTA, Ga., July 29.—Revival services which were in progress at the Baptist church here have been continued this week. Rev. C. P. Sheidan, of Augusta, is preaching.

CROP CONDITIONS IN BOWMANVILLE

BOWMANVILLE, Ga., July 29.—Crop conditions throughout this section of Elbert county are very promising. Due to a late cool spring the growth of cotton was greatly retarded. Early planted corn seemed on the verge of ruin, finally the rains and warm weather arrived, causing a wonderful transformation. Crops are not safe, yet at the moment give perhaps the best promise in 10 years.

THOMPSON'S MANAGER CONSIDERS $50,000

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 29.—(Special)—An offer of $50,000 to Jack Thompson, Los Angeles negro, world welter-weight boxing champion, to meet Tommy Freeman of Cleveland, in a title bout of 15 rounds, in the last week of August or the first week of September, was taken under consideration tonight by Ray Alvis, Thompson's manager.

MASKED BAND SLAYS NEGRO G. O. P. LEADER

MONTGOMERY COUNTY CHAIRMAN CHARGES OUTRAGE TO MASKED, ROBED BAND

MT. VERNON, Ga., July 29.—(Special)—S. Minsey, 70, negro republican leader of Alvey, Ga., died here Tuesday afternoon after reporting he had been kidnapped from his home by a band of masked and robed men last night, carried into Thomas county and shot.

He was found semi-conscious this morning, and revived only long enough to give a fragmentary account of the attack. A white man who found him brought him home.

Minsey told officers one of the demands made by the attackers was that he give up his post as county republican chairman. Before he died he told the deputy killed him as he fled from the scene of the shooting with a rifle before being taken forceably from his home. Physicians said that blow resulted in concussion of the brain and caused his death. He was not able to name his assailants.

Solicitor-General M. H. Jones was with the band several hours before he died, but was unable to obtain only meager information. Officers said considerable feeling had been aroused by the death.

Besides being active in republican politics, as county chairman and formerly delegate to a number of national conventions, Minsey recently was elected a secretary of the Georgia Masonic Masons, with a salary of $75 a month and an equal allowance for a secretary.

No motive has been established for the attack. Officers said they knew of no activity on Minsey's part, political or otherwise, that might have caused it. They said they had learned there were ten or more persons involved.

Officers said they had learned the negro's grandson was knocked down and his wife threatened when they attempted to prevent the kidnapping. The beating in which most of the skin was lashed off the negro's back, was administered near Gray's Landing. He had injured on his head and face as well as his back.

There was no definite verification of a report that Minsey recently had agreed to a demand that he resign his position as republican county chairman.

Several kidnapping and lashing cases have come to the attention of officers here in the last few days, but this was the first in several months.

AUGUSTAN IS FATALLY SHOT AT MODOC, S.C.

AUGUSTA, Ga., July 29.—(Special)—A coroner's jury empaneled in McCormick county, South Carolina, came to Augusta Tuesday to view the body of Alfred Mims, 43, of Augusta, who was fatally wounded in a shooting affray near Modoc, S.C., yesterday afternoon.

Kirk E. White, 45, sawmill employee, is held for the slaying of Mims.

The jury, after viewing the body of Mims, returned to the scene of the killing and is expected to return a verdict Wednesday, after hearing statements of White and his wife,眼 witnesses to the shooting.

No motive for the slaying was advanced by McCormick county officers.

CHAMBERS SUCCEEDS
KING IN ELKS' OFFICE

COLUMBUS, Ga., July 29.—(Special)—Dr. Gordon F. Chambers, past exalted ruler, was elected secretary of the local Elks' lodge to succeed the late Anthony H. King, who was found dead in his private quarters in the Elbert County highway department and there is no question about his being in shape when he reported.

Spero Tassapoulos has returned to his home at Savannah, and has a job in a fruit wholesale house there, making his preparations to hold down the east Georgia's home in the fall next season. After a few big bunches of bananas around for a few weeks Spero expects to have no trouble in throwing a football back of the line.

Marion Dickens and Sam Brown are co-workers in a drayage company, Dickens-Brown Trucking Company—We Haul Trucks.

TRUCK WRECK LEAPS TO DEATH OF YOUTH

SUMMERTIME, Ga., July 29.—(Special)—Crushed beneath the wheels of a heavy truck which was driven by an older brother. Elford Hix, 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hix, of Sublima, in the eastern part of the state, was killed Monday afternoon at the local hospital where he was brought for treatment.

It is said young Hix and his brother were returning home with the truck Saturday afternoon just after a rain over a slippery road and when approaching a bridge the truck skidded and turned over. Elford Hix was beneath the truck and his chest was crushed, causing internal injuries from which pneumonia set up and caused his death Monday afternoon.

Funeral services for young Hix were held at Sublima at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and interment was in the cemetery at that place. He is survived by his parents and several brothers and sisters.

ATHENS ART TEACHER TO STUDY IN EUROPE

ATHENS, Ga., July 29.—(Special)—Miss Mildred Ledford, of the art department of the Georgia State College of Agriculture, has been granted a six-week leave of absence to study in Europe for the remainder of the summer.

Miss Ledford expects to visit the art galleries in Paris and London, and to make a special study of Gothic architecture, traveling in France, England, Switzerland and Germany.

NEGRO FARMER HAS OPEN COTTON BOLL

SPARTA, Ga., July 29.—(Special)—The first open cotton boll of the season was brought to this city this morning by Charles L. Gordon, well-known negro farmer of the Governor's Mill section. Pinkston says he has 18 acres of cotton this far advanced and if the weather is favorable he hopes to get the first bale on the market by the middle of August. He has obtained the premium for the best cotton in recent years and will make a strong effort to have his place. He raises enough cotton and food crops on his farm which he owns, to care for his family and live stock.

CHARLES L. GORDON TAKES ON COTTON BOLL

SPARTA, Ga., July 29.—(Special)—Rev. J. W. Howell, Mr. Howell, and his son, J. W. Howell, Jr., were killed in a car accident on the highway between Elberton and Sparta.

Both men were driving to the church.

FUNERAL OF JOHN S. MONTGOMERY

THOMASVILLE, Ga., July 29.—Funeral services were held from the residence of Dr. Lee Chesnut, pastor of the First Baptist Church, who died suddenly on Sunday morning.

He was a director of the First Baptist Church.

FUNERAL OF JOHN W. HOWELL

SPARTA, Ga., July 29.—(Special)—Rev. J. W. Howell, Mr. Howell, and his son, J. W. Howell, Jr., were killed in a car accident on the highway between Elberton and Sparta.

Both men were driving to the church.

FUNERAL OF JOHN W. HOWELL

SPARTA, Ga., July 29.—(Special)—Rev. J. W. Howell, Mr. Howell, and his son, J. W. Howell, Jr., were killed in a car accident on the highway between Elberton and Sparta.

Both men were driving to the church.

FUNERAL OF JOHN W. HOWELL

SPARTA, Ga., July 29.—(Special)—Rev. J. W. Howell, Mr. Howell, and his son, J. W. Howell, Jr., were killed in a car accident on the highway between Elberton and Sparta.

Both men were driving to the church.

FUNERAL OF JOHN W. HOWELL

SPARTA, Ga., July 29.—(Special)—Rev. J. W. Howell, Mr. Howell, and his son, J. W. Howell, Jr., were killed in a car accident on the highway between Elberton and Sparta.

Both men were driving to the church.

FUNERAL OF JOHN W. HOWELL

SPARTA, Ga., July 29.—(Special)—Rev. J. W. Howell, Mr. Howell, and his son, J. W. Howell, Jr., were killed in a car accident on the highway between Elberton and Sparta.

Both men were driving to the church.

FUNERAL OF JOHN W. HOWELL

SPARTA, Ga., July 29.—(Special)—Rev. J. W. Howell, Mr. Howell, and his son, J. W. Howell, Jr., were killed in a car accident on the highway between Elberton and Sparta.

Miss Myrtle Boyett
To Be Honored
By Mrs. Ripley

DECATUR, Ga., July 29.—Miss Myrtle Boyett, of Pensacola, Fla., will be guest of honor at a bridge party given by her sister, Mrs. Ed Ripley, Jr., Thursday afternoon, July 31, at her home on Glenn circle, in Decatur. The guest list includes Mesdames Maynard, Mrs. Herbert Morris, Josephine Gardner, Louis Morris, Joseph Elder, Alfred Burch, William Glenn, Joseph Bunch, Myrick Clements, Dan White, Ed Terrell, Curtis Thompson, A. Bush, E. B. Sutton, Ralph Goudy, Hugo Trott, Edwin Barry, Perry Jackson, Ralph Goodson, J. W. Griffin, Robert Ferguson, Robert L. Jr., E. C. Miller, Harry Milton, Alister Davis, J. D. Morris, Martha Ahern, C. E. Pattillo, Murphy Chandler, Jr., Ernest Shields, R. C. Henderson, Robert Ramspeck, Misses Myrtle Boyett, Doris Houston and Reba Cunningham.

Visitors Honored At Mimosa Hall.

Dr. T. Irwin Willingham and his brother, Bernard Willingham, will be hosts at a dinner and bridge party this evening at Mimosa Hall, in Roswell, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Weyman Willingham, of St. Petersburg, Fla.

Invited to meet Mr. and Mrs. Willingham are Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Willingham, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Cullipper, Misses Claire Hamer, Hazel Stamps, Virginia Skeen, Helen Ward, Mary Crenshaw, Dorothy Collier and Helen Cody; Ralph Pharr, Laurice Saunders, Jack Tracy, George Downman and Frank McGill.

Miss Isabelle Smith Is Honor Guest.

Miss Isabelle Smith, of Augusta, the guest of her brother, Howard Smith, was honor guest at the bridge tea given yesterday by Mrs. Charles Meriwether at her home on Peachtree road.

Little Miss Gunn Celebrates Birthday.

Mrs. J. B. Edmondson and Mrs. Harrison Gunn entertained yesterday at their home on Lakewood Terrace in celebration of the fifth birthday anniversary of little Miss Mildred Gunn. Mary Frances Chandler, William Gunn, Mary Katherine Lee, Charles Adams, Philip Page, Louise Head, Andrew Page, Dorine Haynes, Anetta Tolleson, Harriett Brooks, Betty Brooks, Richard Cooke, Eloise Pinson, Winner McDaniel, Harvey Edmondson, James Adams, Corine Goodwin and Pelham Goodwin were invited to meet little Miss Gunn.

Welsh-Renyer License Issued.

NEW YORK, July 29.—A marriage license was issued yesterday to William N. Welsh, 29, an assistant manager, formerly of Atlanta, where he was born, the son of William R. and Nancy Swafford Welsh, and Miss Louise Renyer, 22, of 27 Eliza street, Bronx, N. Y. The couple announced the marriage ceremony would be performed later today by the New York city clerk. Mr. Welsh is now residing at 1745 Davidson avenue, the Bronx, this city. Miss Renyer is a native of Jackson, Mich., the daughter of Cyrille and Amelia Van Huyse Renyer.

Mrs. Guy Mankin
To Be Honored.

Mrs. Randolph Smith entertains at an informal bridge party at her home on Penn avenue, in compliment to her sister, Mrs. Guy Mankin, of New York City. She has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Mary Weston Douglas, for several weeks but expected to return to the metropolis next Friday.

Mrs. Mankin was formerly Miss Helen Douglas, and is a member of the Women's Overseas League, having given valuable service during the World War. She is brilliantly educated, having been a member of the Atlanta Bar Association, and practiced here for several years previous to her marriage.

SECKATARY HAWKINS

More Mystery

Williams, A. F. Wynn and L. S. Cal-

Hostesses Honor
July Bride-Elect.

Mrs. Paul Wynn and Miss Willie Mae Hancock entertained at bridge yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Wynn, 1017 Peachtree place, in honor of Miss Anna McIntyre, a bride-elect of July. Mrs. Wynn was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. George Steed. The guests included: Misses Tumlin, Well Marquett, Betty Holcomb, Waverly Roberts, Ruth Astin, Julie Finley, Mrs. Morris, Virginia Reeves, Catherine Brown, Dorothy O'Neal, Janina Caron, Mary Pope Mayson, Sarah Barnett, Christine Curtin, Dorothy Dizer, Don Kinney, Jr., James Holcombe, Robert Williams, Earl Holcombe, B. Meadman, Jr., Jimmie Callaway, Mrs. Lewis Brown, Redeman Curtin, and Bobby Callaway. Others present were: Mrs. C. B. Meadows, Mrs. Charles R. Callaway, Mrs. Margaret, Mrs. Eva Hewitt, Mrs. R. C. E. S. Wefing, Miss Helen Bach and her guest, Miss Louise Ernst, of Bethlehem Park; Miss Pat Daniels and Miss Dorothy Tebbetts. At the close of a luncheon the hostesses presented Miss Starke with a lovely crystal cream and sugar set.

law.

Miss Parsons Weds Lamar Wadsworth.

Mrs. Flossie M. Parsons, of Jacksonville, Fla., formerly of Atlanta, announces the marriage of her daughter, Marian Dorothy, to Lamar James Wadsworth, July 21.

Luncheon Honors
Miss Ruth Starke.

Honoring Miss Ruth Starke, a popular bride-elect, Mrs. G. F. Weifing and Miss Dorothy Wefing entertained at a luncheon on the terrace of the Henry Grady hotel recently. The guests included Mrs. Lewis Starke, Miss Virginia Starke, Mrs. E. Cheshire, Miss Dena Marlowe, Mrs. Hugh Dobson, Mrs. Biemann Alexander, Mrs. MacFarland, R. M. Barnes, J. L. McIntyre, George Steed, Sam Jenkins, and Sam Jenkins.

Banff

Enchanted Castle of the Canadian Rockies

Visit the world's most perfect combination of princely living, scenic splendor, and exhilarating sport!

...an eight-million-dollar resort, keyed to the play spirit of its international devotees!

...billion-dollar scenic setting: nature's most dramatic massing of Alpine peaks and jade valley!

Delicious swims in the famous twin pools. Exciting golf on a championship 18—Prince of Wales trophy!

Mysterious old Indian trails climbing to the stars; alpinism with Swiss guides; tennis, motor trips, dazzling night life. You'll have a gorgeous vacation at Banff! Ask for special seasonal and monthly rates.

K. A. Cook, General Agent, Canadian Pacific, Suite 1017, Peachtree, Atlanta, Ga. Telephone: WAlnut 2217.

Canadian Pacific

Light Opera during July-August

World's Greatest Travel System

Office, Suite 1017, Peachtree, Atlanta, Ga. Telephone: WAlnut 2217.

MRS. HOWARD HALL famous dietitian

Recommends

Colonial for Real Bread Quality

at CONSTITUTION'S COOKING SCHOOL

There is a big difference in bread, says Mrs. Hall, just as there is in automobiles, clothes, coffee or anything else you buy. In Colonial Bread you will recognize this difference. Here is a better loaf, that is uniformly good, always fresh and with a finer flavor, because it's made with the best of materials—plenty of milk, high-grade shortening, and flour made from choicest wheat.

Be sure to hear Mrs. Hall at The Constitution's Cooking School today.

ALSO SLICED Same Price

LEE BAKING COMPANY A. B. LEE, President

WE HAD SEEN
THE THREE-EYED APE AGAIN—AFTER WE KNEW WE HAD SEEN IT KILLED AND LYING DEAD
UNDER A PILE OF STONES ON SEVEN WILLOWS ISLAND—*Sack.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

FARMER BROWN'S BOY FINDS THE CLOTHESPINS.

BY THORNTON BURGESS.

The one who does a thing forbidden is wiser when he keeps well hidden.

Jim Crow.

Then he flew down to the shoulder of Farmer Brown's Boy.

"So you were out behind the barn, were you?" said Farmer Brown's Boy.

"Caw!" replied Jim Crow, which have meant anything.

"What have you done with those

Then he flew down to the shoulder of Farmer Brown's Boy.

"So you were out behind the barn, were you?" said Farmer Brown's Boy.

"Caw!" replied Jim Crow, which have meant anything.

"What have you done with those clothespins?" demanded Farmer Brown's Boy.

"Caw!" replied Jim Crow, and Farmer Brown's Boy was just as wise as before.

"You ought to be shut up for punishment," said Farmer Brown's Boy.

"Caw!" said Jim Crow, and it sounded as if he chuckled at the same time.

"I suppose I've got to trick you to find that new hiding place," said Farmer Brown's Boy.

"Caw!" said Jim Crow, quite as if he approved.

So Farmer Brown's Boy went into the house and got one of the few remaining clothespins. It was a nice new one. He pinned one of the sheets with it, and then went back to the house, leaving Jim Crow outside. Then he peeped out the kitchen window. Jim Crow sat on a clothespost. It was plain to see that the black scamp was watching the house closely. Presently he flew over to the clothesline, pulled out the clothespin and away he went across the yard and the fence. Farmer Brown's Boy lost no time. He raced across to the barn and through to where he could peek through a lit-

Mrs. A. M. Turner To Sponsor Bridge.

Mrs. A. M. Turner, past grand matron of Grand chapter of Georgia, sponsors a benefit bridge today at her home, 662 Brookline, S. W., at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. Annie E. Rivers, worthy matron of Electa chapter, invites all members of other chapters and their friends to attend.

the window. He was just in time to see Jim Crow fly away from the top of a straw stack out in the barnyard. Farmer Brown's Boy grinned. He got a short ladder and climbed up to the top of the straw stack. There in a hole in the straw were all of Mother Brown's clothespins.

(Copyright, 1930, for The Constitution.)

The next story: "Jim Crow Receives Visitors."

Josephine Callaway Honored at Party.

Mrs. Lee Callaway entertained recently at a children's party at her home on Allene avenue, in celebration of the fourth birthday anniversary of her little daughter, Josephine Wynne Callaway. She was assisted by Mrs. A. F. Wynn, Mrs. C. A. Reeves and Mrs. Don Kinney. The guests included: Mrs. Max Tumlin, Well Marquett, Betty Holcomb, Waverly Roberts, Ruth Astin, Julie Finley, Mrs. Morris, Virginia Reeves, Catherine Brown, Dorothy O'Neal, Janina Caron, Mary Pope Mayson, Sarah Barnett, Christine Curtin, Dorothy Dizer, Don Kinney, Jr., James Holcombe, Robert Williams, Earl Holcombe, B. Meadman, Jr., Jimmie Callaway, Mrs. Lewis Brown, Redeman Curtin, and Bobby Callaway. Other present were: Mrs. C. B. Meadows, Mrs. Charles R. Callaway, Mrs. Margaret, Mrs. Eva Hewitt, Mrs. R. C. E. S. Wefing, Miss Helen Bach and for the BLONDE or with gray hair — "Symphonie" overcomes that all-too-neutral look, enriches the tone of your skin, brings it warmth and life.

And if you're "MEDIUM" . . . you'll admit that you need a distinguishing touch! "Symphonie" gives it—the blush of pearl and rose against brown hair is ravishing!

With AUBURN HAIR
one usually finds a fair skin and partiality to tones of brown in dress. Of all types—"Symphonie" was made for you—it's creamy tint lights the burnished copper of your hair.

And DEEP BRUNETTES find "Symphonie" most flattering. The usual shades of powder form too great a contrast. But here's a tone that's rich and mellow . . . and miraculous!

"SYMPHONIE"

That perfect powder-shade you couldn't buy...nor blend yourself... but always hoped to find! Here it is, triumphant, waiting for your test!

TODAY your face powder is just as fashion-important as your frock! The new clothes demand a new complexion and Armand has created a rare, subtle powder-shade that brings you entrancing fairness for today's more feminine mode.

You'll never know how lovely you really can look until you try "Symphonie" . . . the new Armand complexion powder. It's the greatest cosmetic development since the coming of cold cream powder itself.

"Symphonie" has a secret tint, blended to the exquisite flesh-tones found in Old-World paintings. All women, fundamentally, possess these same translucent tints, but most face powders change or obscure them hopelessly. "Symphonie" complements these basic tones in color, so that you, whether blonde or brunette, have only to apply this powder to see your skin made glorious!

"Symphonie" shade is found only in Armand "Symphonie" Powder, and the rich consistency of this particular blend furthers the effect of the magic new shade. Follow directions for applying, as given in the Armand "Little Hat Box," and be rewarded with a loveliness that is quick to come and not soon to go!

ARMAND
"SYMPHONIE" POWDER

With entrancing fineness of texture

© 1930 by The Armand Co., Inc.

By Robert Franc Schukers

I DON'T SEE HOW I COULD HAVE MISSED THAT THING.

THERE'S PLENTY WE CAN'T EXPLAIN.
HERMAN'S GUARDIAN WAS UNDER THE TREE WHERE THE APE WAS SEEN, A MOMENT AFTER IT DISAPPEARED.

G'DAY TILL TOMORROW.

Miss Weinland To Wed Mr. Brooker In Columbus, Ohio

ASHEVILLE, N. C., July 29.—Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Margaret F. Weinland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar L. Weinland, of Columbus, Ohio, and William E. Brooker, Jr., eldest son of E. E. Brooker, president of the city schools of Asheville, the ceremony to take place Tuesday, August 5. Vows will be taken on the lawn of the Weinland country place near Columbus, at 6:30 o'clock in the evening.

Miss Weinland and her mother have spent several summers in Asheville and Mr. Weinland is a prominent attorney in Columbus. The bride-elect is a graduate of the Ohio State University and a member of the Pi Beta Phi sorority.

Mr. Brooker was graduated from the Asheville High school in the class

Mrs. Walter Colquitt Entertains Visitors.

Mrs. Walter Colquitt entertained at her home on Habersham road Tuesday, honoring Mrs. Colquitt Howard, of Moline, Ill., the guest of Mrs. George Eubanks, and Mrs. Herbert Edwin Featherstone, of El Paso, Texas, the guests of Mrs. Sidney Daniel. Last evening Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Carter, Jr., were hosts at dinner at their home on Argonne drive, complimenting Mrs. Featherstone. Mrs. George Street was hostess at an informal luncheon Monday in compliment to Mrs. Daniel and her guest. Mrs. Featherstone will return to her home in Texas this morning.

of 1924 and then attended the University of North Carolina where he was graduated in the class of 1928. He took a special course in electrical engineering at Carolina and also at the University of Pittsburgh. Mr. Brooker is now in the engineering department of the Southeastern Underwriters' Association, at Atlanta.

Willner's AUGUST FUR SALE

33½% to 50% Reductions

After months of planning we are ready to announce the greatest style event in the history of Atlanta—Willner's 1930 August Fur Sale—the outstanding selling event of our entire career. It begins today with fur coat values the like of which may never be duplicated. Prices are amazingly low—lower than you ever hoped for! Plan now to be here TODAY and select from our complete showing.

Terms Gladly Arranged.

Willner's famous insurance policy, protecting against any loss for one year, with every coat at no added cost.

Broadtail . . . the season's smartest. Various trimmed . . . $98.50 to $225
Northern Seal . . . very exclusive. Shown with genuine Lasky ermine trim. Others trimmed with fitch and squirrel . . . $79.50 to $198.50
Silver Muskrat. Beautifully patterned skins. Ermine trimmed. Others trimmed with self fitch, squirrel and contrasting muskrat . . . $98.50 to $250
Genuine Japanese Mink. Ermine trimmed. Others in self and varied shades of ermine . . . $225 to $750
Natural Squirrel. Shown in the flared mode with large Princess collar. Also to be had in dyed skins. Others up from $125 . . . $198.50 to $450

Other Special Values!

Caracals . . . $79.50 and up
Ponys, beautifully patterned . . . $79.50
Lapins, various shades . . . $98.50 and up
Kalyak, very smart models . . . $79.50 and up

All Fox Scarfs and Chokers—beautiful assortment of choice skins—at August Fur Sale Reductions
$29.50 to $298.50

WILLNER'S MANUFACTURING FURRIERS

218 Peachtree Street WAL. 8918
WILLNER'S: THE SYMBOL OF SAFETY IN FURS

No bulk disturbs your summer comfort because Kotex is made to fit

WARM weather . . . how disturbing to comfort on certain days . . . if one didn't have Kotex! Kotex is lighter and cooler. Five times lighter than cotton, for the same amount of absorption. Cooler, because of its many filmy layers which permit free circulation of air.

These lengthwise layers carry moisture away from the surface, keeping the surface soft and delicate.

Kotex deodorizes, too. And it is completely disposable, just like tissue. It has rounded, tapered corners.

Kotex is made of Cellucotton (not cotton) absorbent wadding—the same material used by 85% of our greatest hospitals.

Kotex Company, Chicago, Illinois.

KOTEX IS SOFT . . .
1—Not a deceptive softness, that soon packs into chafing hardness. But a delicate, lasting softness.

2—Kotex filler is far lighter and cooler than cotton, yet absorbs 5 times as much.

3—Deodorizes . . . safely, thoroughly, by a special process.

4—Disposable, instantly, completely.

Regular Kotex—45¢ for 12
Kotex Super—65¢ for 12

Ask to see the KOTEX BELT and KOTEX SANITARY APRON at any drug, dry goods or department store.

KOTEX
The New Sanitary Pad which deodorizes

Daily Calendar of Social Events

Mrs. Edgar Chambers, Jr., entertains at luncheon at her home on North Decatur road, honoring Misses Evelyn Thompson, of Nashville, and Jane Clarke, of Dallas, Texas.

Mr. W. F. Melton and Mrs. J. B. McNeely entertain at shower at the home of the former on Emory drive, honoring Miss Marie Goodear, bride-elect.

William Owens entertains at dinner in compliment to Misses Evelyn Thompson, of Nashville; Jane Clarke, of Dallas, Texas; Margaret Whitsett, of Atlanta, and Elizabeth Dunn, of Waycross.

Mrs. Elsa Phillips entertains at bridge-tea at her home on Ponce de Leon avenue, honoring her guest, Mrs. Cay Alexander Yerkes, of Jacksonville, Ill.

Mrs. Randolph Smith gives bridge-tea at her home on Penn avenue, honoring her sister, Mrs. Guy Mankin, of New York city.

Mrs. J. D. Norris gives children's party at the Capital City Country Club, celebrating the seventh birthday anniversary of her young son, Edwin Hill.

Ladies of Ponca de Leon Baptist church entertain at garden party in the gardens of Mrs. S. B. Naff on Ivey road from 4 to 6 o'clock.

Dr. T. Irwin Willingham and Bernard Willingham are hosts at dinner and bridge at Mimosa hall in Roswell, complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Weyman Willingham.

Mrs. A. M. Turner, past grand matron of grand chapter of Georgia, sponsors benefit bridge party at 7:30 o'clock at her home, 622 Brookline street, honoring Electa chapter, O. E. S.

Organization meeting of Lady Elizabeth Oglethorpe chapter, C. A. R., held at 4 o'clock at Habersham hall.

Mrs. S. E. Bayliss entertains at her home on Bolling road this evening at bridge in compliment to her daughter, Miss Jessie Bayliss, and her fiancee, Jack Cowan.

AUGUST ACTIVE MONTH FOR SEEKERS OF VOTES

BY HERBERT LITTLE, United News Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Fifteen primaries and one or more state conventions will enliven the political scene in August, and decide the line-up for 14 senatorial races.

Five senate seats will be won with conclusive finality in states where one party dominates, those of Carter Glass, democrat, Virginia; Joseph T. Robinson, democrat, Arkansas; Pat Harrison, democrat, Mississippi; Coleman Blease, democrat, South Carolina, and William E. Borah, republican, Idaho.

Glass, who comes up in the Virginia primary August 5, is without opposition, and Borah is sure of renomination in the state convention August 26. So these two famous Senate figures are certain of six more years in the senate.

Robinson, Blease and Harrison have vigorous opposition, all of them standing for nomination. The Arkansas primary August 12, Mississippi's is August 19, and South Carolina's is August 26.

The situation in the other August primaries is as follows:

August 2, Kentucky: Senator John M. Robison, republican, now holding office by appointment, is seeking nomination for remainder of a term—until next March 3—and a six-year term thereafter.

August 5, Kansas: Senator Arthur Capper, republican, without opposition, with democrats expecting to run former Governor Jonathan Davis against him in November; Senator Henry J. Allen, republican, appointed by Governor Clyde M. Reed, opposed by several candidates including a service man, and Representative Sproul, for the nomination for the remaining two years of his term.

August 12, Virginia: nominees for the rest of the term of Senator William E. Brock, democratic appointee, ending March 3, and a six-year term following, to be selected by both parties.

August 12, Alabama, with Senator J. Thomas Heflin excluded from the democratic primary because he was anti-Smith in 1928, two other party leaders are waging a hot campaign for nomination.

August 12, Nebraska: Senator George W. Norris, democrat, expected to win State Treasurer Stebbins. Gilber M. Hitchcock, democrat, former postmaster-general, will oppose the republican nominee.

August 12, Ohio: Rossco C. McCulloch, republican, appointee, campaigning to succeed himself for 2-year remainder of term.

August 12, Wyoming: William C. Dunn, publisher and former United States civil service commission head, expected to win republican nomination for seat of Senator Patrick J. Sullivan, appointee, who is retiring, remainder of term and six-year term both being involved.

Missouri holds a primary to select gubernatorial nominees August 5 and California holds a similar one August 26, while Texas' run-off primary between the two leaders in the first primary, Ross Sterling and Miriam A. Ferguson, will be held also on August 26.

Oklahoma holds its primary tomorrow, with contested contests in both parties for the seat now held by Senator W. P. Rainey, republican. Democrats have high hopes of winning this seat in November.

Ambassador Expected To Ignore Drys' Letter

WASHINGTON, July 29.—(AP)—The protest of Samuel B. Woods, former mayor of Charlottesville, Va., against the use of liquor at the British embassy arrived there today and awaited action by the ambassador, Sir Ronald Hoskyns.

With no action having been taken, embassy officials indicated that Sir Ronald will ignore the protest and merely send a bare acknowledgment. This is customary in the case of persons who have written to the ambassador protesting the serving of alcoholic beverages under diplomatic immunity.

Two years ago James T. Carter of Lynchburg, Va., lumberman, Sir Ernest Howard, predecessor of Sir Ronald, waived his diplomatic privilege and signed no more liquor import permits for himself or his staff.

Sir Ernest acted on the Carter protest after receiving a large shipment of liquor. Sir Ernest died last week and was still in the embassy when Sir Ronald arrived. Sir Ernest did not forego the privilege of serving liquor from the stock on hand.

Upon taking the post the new ambassador reversed the waiver and resubmitted the signing of the import permits.

Plough's
3 FACE POWDERS
CREATED BY PLOUGH
NEW YORK MEMPHIS SAN FRANCISCO

EATON FORCES CURIOUS OVER SCHWAB'S SALARY

Want Information In Record Concerning Veteran's Stipend.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, July 29.—(AP)—Further probe into bonuses paid to officials by the Bethlehem Steel Corporation was indicated by attorneys for the Cyrus S. Eaton interests, who are seeking to enjoin merger of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company with Bethlehem.

The attorneys said they will attempt to get into the record of the suit the salary paid to Charles M. Schwab, Bethlehem chairman, and the bonuses paid to several lesser officials. President Eugene G. Grace, of Bethlehem, testified that Schwab received a salary of $12,000 and bonus of $1,623,753 in 1929. The bonuses of six vice presidents, ranging from $11,077 to $375,784, were revealed at the same time.

Schwab, it was brought out, apportioned the bonuses according to the earnings. He does not himself receive a bonus but the Eaton attorneys said they will ask the Bethlehem Corporation to volunteer information on his salary.

The Eaton side today completed or nearly completed its inquiry into the proxies and stock which was voted to ratify the merger last April 8. Introduction of evidence on this phase of the case was delayed.

W. J. Morris, vice president of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company, is expected to be on the stand tomorrow to testify about the purchase of stock during the proxy battle that preceded the April 8 meeting. Eaton attorneys also requested their opponents to bring into court tomorrow witnesses from Pickands, Mather & Company, Cleveland ore firm, and an $800,000 check with which Pickands, Mather & Company repaid a loan to the Bethlehem Corporation.

In that time, the house of delegates and the state met in joint session, heard a message from Governor Albert C. Ritchie, took nearly a score of roll calls in each branch and the bills were considered in committee. Every vote was unanimous.

The registration dates were changed to prevent conflict with orthodox and reform Jewish holidays.

With the memory in the nineties, the legislators sweltered in shirt sleeves while they hastened to push the legislation through. But one of the 20 senators was absent and 112 of the 114 eligible members of the house answered the roll call.

The new registration dates are September 16 and 17 and October 9 and 16. Jewish leaders said 25,000 or more members of the ortho-x and reformed churches would have been prevented from registering to vote on the former dates. Governor Ritchie's message pointed out that there are more than 400 Jewish election officers in Baltimore.

Great clouds of black smoke indicated the flames were being fed by a heavier flow of oil after the interruption.

"Tex" Thorton, famed for his work in extinguishing burning oil wells and wild gassers in Texas and Oklahoma, was on the ground making preparations to try his hand at conquering the roaring monster.

And this week brings our sale to a close! There remain many hundreds of pairs of splendid shoes, smart styles, many of which will be appropriate for fall wear. There remain, however, only three short days in which you may take advantage of this sale. Allen's closes on Saturday and the sale ends, abruptly, definitely, on Friday!

Burning Texas Gasser Adds to Its Fury

REFUGIO, Texas, July 29.—(AP)—The Houston Oil Company's wild burning gasser which drove 200 residents of this little town from their homes in the face of a fire menace, today seemed to burn with renewed strength after choking itself off for a few minutes.

Witnesses were Walter E. Meuh, secretary of Sheet and Tube; Harold T. Clark, attorney, and Carl Ullman, of the Dollar Savings and Trust Company.

It is believed the fire was caused by a gas leak.

At that time, the house of delegates and the state met in joint session, heard a message from Governor Albert C. Ritchie, took nearly a score of roll calls in each branch and the bills were considered in committee. Every vote was unanimous.

The registration dates were changed to prevent conflict with orthodox and reform Jewish holidays.

With the memory in the nineties, the legislators sweltered in shirt sleeves while they hastened to push the legislation through. But one of the 20 senators was absent and 112 of the 114 eligible members of the house answered the roll call.

The new registration dates are September 16 and 17 and October 9 and 16. Jewish leaders said 25,000 or more members of the ortho-x and reformed churches would have been prevented from registering to vote on the former dates. Governor Ritchie's message pointed out that there are more than 400 Jewish election officers in Baltimore.

Great clouds of black smoke indicated the flames were being fed by a heavier flow of oil after the interruption.

"Tex" Thorton, famed for his work in extinguishing burning oil wells and wild gassers in Texas and Oklahoma, was on the ground making preparations to try his hand at conquering the roaring monster.

And this week brings our sale to a close! There remain many hundreds of pairs of splendid shoes, smart styles, many of which will be appropriate for fall wear. There remain, however, only three short days in which you may take advantage of this sale. Allen's closes on Saturday and the sale ends, abruptly, definitely, on Friday!

J.P. ALLEN & CO.

OAKLAND OFFICIALS HERE FOR CONFERENCE

Will Address Dealers at Meeting in Biltmore This Afternoon.

A group of officials from the Oakland Motor Car Company, Pontiac, Mich., headed by W. A. Blees, vice president in charge of sales, will be in Atlanta today to attend a meeting of Oakland-Pontiac dealers from Georgia, Alabama and eastern Tennessee, to be held this afternoon at the Atlanta Biltmore.

The resolution recommended James A. Fitzgerald, Alexandria, vice presidential nominee of the party in 1928, in the event the committee decided in the affirmative.

William F. Varney, New York, presidential nominee of the prohibition party in 1928, in a convention address called "On the moral and patriotic forces in America to unite in a dry party of their own," said "sentiment is shifting to the wet side in the United States at the present time and the drys have reached the turning point in the road."

He based his belief in the possibility of the nomination by the Republicans of Dwight W. Morrow, of New Jersey, for president in 1932 on a wet platform.

CHEAP EXCURSION FARES

On sale every day between all Stations Atlanta to West Point. A. & W. E. E. (Ind.)

Opposition for Glass Confronts 'Dry' Party

RICHMOND, Va., July 29.—(AP)—Members of the prohibition party in Virginia, in convention here, today adopted a resolution calling upon the party executive committee to decide whether a prohibition candidate should be entered against United States Senator Carter Glass.

The resolution recommended James A. Fitzgerald, Alexandria, vice presidential nominee of the party in 1928, in the event the committee decided in the affirmative.

Social Items

Miss Etta Ruth Baile, of Richmond, Va., is visiting her sister, Mrs. L. A. Weekley, on Peachtree street.

Miss Marion Nesbitt, of Richmond, Va., is visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Nestitt, at their home on The Prado, in Ansley Park.

Fred Brooks, of 1393 West Peachtree, has returned from a two-week stay in New York city, where he has been studying dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnston and Miss Adele Johnston have recently moved from Atlanta from Charlotte, N.C., and are making their home on Peachtree street.

Mrs. Hamilton Douglas has returned to her home on Twenty-sixth street, after having spent several weeks at Wesley Memorial hospital and is very much improved in health.

Miss Elizabeth Fowler, who has been visiting in Atlanta, has returned to her home in Athens, Ga.

Mrs. J. P. Stevens and Miss Mollie Postick are spending two weeks in Peachtree street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Minder, 789 Ponce de Leon avenue, are at the Markham in Gulfport, Miss.

Miss Isabelle Smith, of Augusta, is visiting her brother, Howard Smith, at his home on Myrtle street.

Miss Gene Lee is convalescing after an operation for appendicitis at the Georgia Baptist hospital.

Dr. and Mrs. W. T. McEwan left yesterday afternoon for New York in the Pocono mountains of Pennsylvania and will return to the 1050 Ponce de Leon apartment September 6.

Miss Amelia Phillips has returned to her home at Cuthbert after a visit to her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene C. Wachendorff, at their home on Peachtree street.

Mrs. H. W. McLarty has returned from a motor trip through Virginia and North Carolina.

Wayne Martin is convalescing from an appendix operation at St. Joseph's infirmary.

Mrs. Elliott Cooper and Miss Lila Phillips of Monroe, are visiting Mrs. M. F. Breedlove at her home on Peachtree street.

Miss Ada Fuller has returned from a visit to her uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. Jake Fullen at their home in Oklahoma City.

Mrs. James Elmore Green and Miss Frances Witherspoon leave Saturday for New York city.

Miss Martha West, of Dublin, Ga., is the guest of Mrs. J. C. Alleyen on Courtenay drive.

Mrs. Charles L. Terry and sons, Charles Joseph Terry and Eugene Terry, of Corsicana, Texas, are visiting Mrs. H. Faison Hines at the St. Andrews on West Peachtree street.

Mrs. John T. Toler arrived in New York city last Monday on the steamer

Pennland, after having spent the past three months in Europe. She will remain in New York for a week at the Vanderbilt hotel, and will visit in Maryland before returning to Atlanta.

Miss E. L. Merrill is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Frank Wilson, at Cape Hills, Fla., and they are spending the summer at Cape Cod, Mass.

Mrs. Wilson will be remembered as Miss Olive Merrill before her marriage.

Dr. and Mrs. W. Earl Quillian have returned to a trip to New Jersey and Asheville, N.C.

John F. Thigpen is at Troutdale-in-the-Pines, Evergreen, Col., where he is recovering from an appendix operation which he recently underwent in Denver.

Mr. and Mrs. William Clarence Cantrell announce the birth of a little daughter at Wesley Memorial hospital Sunday, July 27. The little girl is named Louis Nixon Cantrell for her mother and maternal grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Painter, with their sons, William and Robert Painter, have returned to Atlanta after a two-week motor trip through Alabama and Tennessee.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Tull have taken possession of their new home at 21 Montclair drive, in Brookwood Hills. They have as their guest, Mrs. Tull's sister, Mrs. L. A. Brown, of Gadsden, N.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Watson are visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Harris in Montgomery, Ala.

Mr. Alfren C. Newell, Miss Ellen Newell and Mrs. Robert A. Whately, Jr., are spending some time at Highlands, N.C.

Miss Lillie May Robinson has returned from a visit to North Carolina. She also spent a week at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Mrs. Guyton Parks is in Montgomery, Ala., where she is visiting her sister, Mrs. R. F. Hudson, who complimented Mrs. Parks with a tea last Friday to which 60 guests were invited.

Mrs. Lewis A. Branson and children, Lewis Branson, Jr., and Dorothy Branson, of Chicago, are visiting Mrs. Branson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Limbaugh, at their home on Rumson road.

Mrs. W. L. Southwell is visiting in Macon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Rickenbach have returned from a three-week motor trip to Cleveland, Ohio, from their former home.

Miss Laura Mays, of Marietta, sails today on the steamer Majestic for America, after having spent the past two months in Europe. Mrs. Mays and Schroeder and Miss Betty Schroeder, of Atlanta, went abroad in Miss May's party.

Mrs. J. Frank Robinson and son, Frank Robinson, Jr., of Tampa, Fla., are visiting Mrs. J. F. Robinson at her home on Angus avenue.

Miss Augusta Skeen is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cooper at their summer home at West Harbor, Maine. She sailed last week from Savannah, and spent last Sunday in Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Jean Kidd, of Lavinia, Ga., is the guest of Miss Ann McGarry at her residence on St. Charles avenue.

Mrs. H. Herbert Simon and her daughter, Miss Claire Simon, of Greenville, S. C., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Cronheim at their home on Piedmont avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Watson are visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Harris in Montgomery, Ala.

Mr. Alfren C. Newell, Miss Ellen Newell and Mrs. Robert A. Whately, Jr., are spending some time at Highlands, N.C.

Miss Lillie May Robinson has returned from a visit to North Carolina. She also spent a week at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Mrs. Guyton Parks is in Montgomery, Ala., where she is visiting her sister, Mrs. R. F. Hudson, who complimented Mrs. Parks with a tea last Friday to which 60 guests were invited.

Mrs. Lewis A. Branson and children, Lewis Branson, Jr., and Dorothy Branson, of Chicago, are visiting Mrs. Branson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Limbaugh, at their home on Rumson road.

Mrs. W. L. Southwell is visiting in Macon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Rickenbach have returned from a three-week motor trip to Cleveland, Ohio, from their former home.

Miss Laura Mays, of Marietta, sails today on the steamer Majestic for America, after having spent the past two months in Europe. Mrs. Mays and Schroeder and Miss Betty Schroeder, of Atlanta, went abroad in Miss May's party.

Miss Augusta Skeen is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cooper at their summer home at West Harbor, Maine. She sailed last week from Savannah, and spent last Sunday in Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Jean Kidd, of Lavinia, Ga., is the guest of Miss Ann McGarry at her residence on St. Charles avenue.

Mrs. H. Herbert Simon and her daughter, Miss Claire Simon, of Greenville, S. C., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Cronheim at their home on Piedmont avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Watson are visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Harris in Montgomery, Ala.

Mr. Alfren C. Newell, Miss Ellen Newell and Mrs. Robert A. Whately, Jr., are spending some time at Highlands, N.C.

Miss Lillie May Robinson has returned from a visit to North Carolina. She also spent a week at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Mrs. Guyton Parks is in Montgomery, Ala., where she is visiting her sister, Mrs. R. F. Hudson, who complimented Mrs. Parks with a tea last Friday to which 60 guests were invited.

Mrs. Lewis A. Branson and children, Lewis Branson, Jr., and Dorothy Branson, of Chicago, are visiting Mrs. Branson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Limbaugh, at their home on Rumson road.

Mrs. W. L. Southwell is visiting in Macon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Rickenbach have returned from a three-week motor trip to Cleveland, Ohio, from their former home.

Miss Laura Mays, of Marietta, sails today on the steamer Majestic for America, after having spent the past two months in Europe. Mrs. Mays and Schroeder and Miss Betty Schroeder, of Atlanta, went abroad in Miss May's party.

Miss Augusta Skeen is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cooper at their summer home at West Harbor, Maine. She sailed last week from Savannah, and spent last Sunday in Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Jean Kidd, of Lavinia, Ga., is the guest of Miss Ann McGarry at her residence on St. Charles avenue.

Mrs. H. Herbert Simon and her daughter, Miss Claire Simon, of Greenville, S. C., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Cronheim at their home on Piedmont avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Watson are visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Harris in Montgomery, Ala.

Mr. Alfren C. Newell, Miss Ellen Newell and Mrs. Robert A. Whately, Jr., are spending some time at Highlands, N.C.

Miss Lillie May Robinson has returned from a visit to North Carolina. She also spent a week at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Mrs. Guyton Parks is in Montgomery, Ala., where she is visiting her sister, Mrs. R. F. Hudson, who complimented Mrs. Parks with a tea last Friday to which 60 guests were invited.

Mrs. Lewis A. Branson and children, Lewis Branson, Jr., and Dorothy Branson, of Chicago, are visiting Mrs. Branson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Limbaugh, at their home on Rumson road.

Mrs. W. L. Southwell is visiting in Macon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Rickenbach have returned from a three-week motor trip to Cleveland, Ohio, from their former home.

Miss Laura Mays, of Marietta, sails today on the steamer Majestic for America, after having spent the past two months in Europe. Mrs. Mays and Schroeder and Miss Betty Schroeder, of Atlanta, went abroad in Miss May's party.

Miss Augusta Skeen is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cooper at their summer home at West Harbor, Maine. She sailed last week from Savannah, and spent last Sunday in Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Jean Kidd, of Lavinia, Ga., is the guest of Miss Ann McGarry at her residence on St. Charles avenue.

Mrs. H. Herbert Simon and her daughter, Miss Claire Simon, of Greenville, S. C., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Cronheim at their home on Piedmont avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Watson are visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Harris in Montgomery, Ala.

Mr. Alfren C. Newell, Miss Ellen Newell and Mrs. Robert A. Whately, Jr., are spending some time at Highlands, N.C.

Miss Lillie May Robinson has returned from a visit to North Carolina. She also spent a week at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Mrs. Guyton Parks is in Montgomery, Ala., where she is visiting her sister, Mrs. R. F. Hudson, who complimented Mrs. Parks with a tea last Friday to which 60 guests were invited.

Mrs. Lewis A. Branson and children, Lewis Branson, Jr., and Dorothy Branson, of Chicago, are visiting Mrs. Branson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Limbaugh, at their home on Rumson road.

Mrs. W. L. Southwell is visiting in Macon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Rickenbach have returned from a three-week motor trip to Cleveland, Ohio, from their former home.

Miss Laura Mays, of Marietta, sails today on the steamer Majestic for America, after having spent the past two months in Europe. Mrs. Mays and Schroeder and Miss Betty Schroeder, of Atlanta, went abroad in Miss May's party.

Miss Augusta Skeen is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cooper at their summer home at West Harbor, Maine. She sailed last week from Savannah, and spent last Sunday in Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Jean Kidd, of Lavinia, Ga., is the guest of Miss Ann McGarry at her residence on St. Charles avenue.

Mrs. H. Herbert Simon and her daughter, Miss Claire Simon, of Greenville, S. C., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Cronheim at their home on Piedmont avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Watson are visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Harris in Montgomery, Ala.

Mr. Alfren C. Newell, Miss Ellen Newell and Mrs. Robert A. Whately, Jr., are spending some time at Highlands, N.C.

Miss Lillie May Robinson has returned from a visit to North Carolina. She also spent a week at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Mrs. Guyton Parks is in Montgomery, Ala., where she is visiting her sister, Mrs. R. F. Hudson, who complimented Mrs. Parks with a tea last Friday to which 60 guests were invited.

Mrs. Lewis A. Branson and children, Lewis Branson, Jr., and Dorothy Branson, of Chicago, are visiting Mrs. Branson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Limbaugh, at their home on Rumson road.

Mrs. W. L. Southwell is visiting in Macon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Rickenbach have returned from a three-week motor trip to Cleveland, Ohio, from their former home.

Miss Laura Mays, of Marietta, sails today on the steamer Majestic for America, after having spent the past two months in Europe. Mrs. Mays and Schroeder and Miss Betty Schroeder, of Atlanta, went abroad in Miss May's party.

Miss Augusta Skeen is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cooper at their summer home at West Harbor, Maine. She sailed last week from Savannah, and spent last Sunday in Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Jean Kidd, of Lavinia, Ga., is the guest of Miss Ann McGarry at her residence on St. Charles avenue.

Mrs. H. Herbert Simon and her daughter, Miss Claire Simon, of Greenville, S. C., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Cronheim at their home on Piedmont avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Watson are visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Harris in Montgomery, Ala.

Mr. Alfren C. Newell, Miss Ellen Newell and Mrs. Robert A. Whately, Jr., are spending some time at Highlands, N.C.

Miss Lillie May Robinson has returned from a visit to North Carolina. She also spent a week at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Mrs. Guyton Parks is in Montgomery, Ala., where she is visiting her sister, Mrs. R. F. Hudson, who complimented Mrs. Parks with a tea last Friday to which 60 guests were invited.

Mrs. Lewis A. Branson and children, Lewis Branson, Jr., and Dorothy Branson, of Chicago, are visiting Mrs. Branson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Limbaugh, at their home on Rumson road.

Mrs. W. L. Southwell is visiting in Macon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Rickenbach have returned from a three-week motor trip to Cleveland, Ohio, from their former home.

Miss Laura Mays, of Marietta, sails today on the steamer Majestic for America, after having spent the past two months in Europe. Mrs. Mays and Schroeder and Miss Betty Schroeder, of Atlanta, went abroad in Miss May's party.

Miss Augusta Skeen is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cooper at their summer home at West Harbor, Maine. She sailed last week from Savannah, and spent last Sunday in Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Jean Kidd, of Lavinia, Ga., is the guest of Miss Ann McGarry at her residence on St. Charles avenue.

Mrs. H. Herbert Simon and her daughter, Miss Claire Simon, of Greenville, S. C., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Cronheim at their home on Piedmont avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Watson are visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Harris in Montgomery, Ala.

Mr. Alfren C. Newell, Miss Ellen Newell and Mrs. Robert A. Whately, Jr., are spending some time at Highlands, N.C.

Miss Lillie May Robinson has returned from a visit to North Carolina. She also spent a week at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Mrs. Guyton Parks is in Montgomery, Ala., where she is visiting her sister, Mrs. R. F. Hudson, who complimented Mrs. Parks with a tea last Friday to which 60 guests were invited.

Mrs. Lewis A. Branson and children, Lewis Branson, Jr., and Dorothy Branson, of Chicago, are visiting Mrs

Peachtree Garden Club Indorses Fox Theater Plan

Members of the Peachtree Garden Club indorse the decision of Fox Theater Corporation to use only newspapers as the medium to advertise the new picture at this coming week. The meeting held at the Piedmont Driving Club Monday afternoon, Prominent Atlanta women, interested in the beautification of scenic highways and members of this horticultural organization, believe that this movement recently inaugurated by the Fox Theater Corporation, is bound to the ultimate beautification of the landscape.

Mr. Malcolm Fleming, chairman of conservation for the Peachtree Garden Club; Mrs. Hugh Dorsey and Mrs. Robert L. Cooney, president of Peachtree Garden Club, presented the resolution.

Miss Irene Davis, president of Thomasville Garden Club, made an informal talk at the meeting, stating that several thousand rose bushes had been planted on the streets of Thomasville during the past year. The club, Miss Davis represents, is one of the oldest in Georgia, having been organized in 1914. The rose show, sponsored by the club and held every April in Thomasville, is an outstanding event in horticultural circles and attracts thousands of visitors to south Georgia.

The August meeting of Peachtree Garden Club will be omitted, the September meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Malcolm Fleming on East Seventeenth street, and the nominating committee will be appointed, to bring in the ticket for the annual election of officers to take place at the October meeting.

Miss Lamb Weds
T. T. Williams.

MACON, Ga., July 29.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lamb announce the marriage of their only daughter, Mary Angeline, to Talmage Theodore Williams Saturday, July 12. Mr. Williams is the son of Mr. W. S. Williams, of Monroe, and is division manager for the George W. Heim Company, with headquarters in Atlanta. After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Williams will be at home at the Henry Grady hotel, Atlanta.

Miss Ruth Maddox To Give Luncheon.

Miss Ruth Maddox will be hostess at luncheon Saturday, August 2, at Varsity Fair tent room, on Peachtree street, and covers will be laid for 12.

Mrs. Jerome Jones, Jr.
To Honor Miss Starke.

Mrs. Ruth Starke, brideelect, whose marriage to Lester V. Stoen will be a social event of August 2, will be honored at a bridge-tea Thursday afternoon, July 31, at which Mrs. Jerome Jones, Jr., entertains at her home on Lakewood Terrace.

Homer Takes Lap In Airplane Derby

OGDEN, Utah, July 29.—(P)—Homer Hamer, LaSalle, Ill., was the first pilot of the all-American air derby to arrive here today for an overnight stop. He brought his ship down at 1:47:37 p. m., M. S. T.

Hamer left Los Angeles at 8:02 a. m. (P. S. T.) this morning and made the nonstop hop of more than 600 miles without stopping to refuel. He won the $1,000 prize offered by the Ogden Chamber of Commerce for the best time between Los Angeles and this city.

Lee Gehlbach, Little Rock, Ark., second to arrive, brought his plane to a perfect landing at 2:01:30. He continued on and elapsed time, having left Los Angeles only 15 minutes before Hamer and arriving here a few minutes behind the lap leader.

Lowell Bayless, Cleveland, was third to land, arriving at 2:18:42. Gehlbach's elapsed time from Detroit to Los Angeles and return to Ogden was announced as 31:18:17 while Hamer's time was given out as 37:49:04.

The Little Rock pilot continued to lead the field by a wide margin. He refueled both at Las Vegas, Nevada, and Milford, Utah, spending only a few minutes at each place. He said the field at Milford, Utah, was rough and soft and he barely cleared the fence at the end of the runway.

'Ma' Ferguson's Lead Exceeds 60,000 Votes

DALLAS, Texas, July 29.—(P)—Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, Texas' first woman governor, seeking to come back after her defeat for re-election in 1926, was 60,810 votes ahead of Ross Sterling, of Houston, wealthy newspaper publisher, when the Texas election bureau announced its latest count at noon today. The computation accrued to date for 740,319 votes in 246 of the state's 253 counties, 123 complete.

Mrs. Ferguson and Sterling had already started the pre-election campaign to the August 23 run off when the democrats will make a choice between the two.

United States Senator Morris Shepard was renominated without the necessity of a run off and without making a single speech. He received 443,953 votes to 147,827 for Robert L. Henry, "wet" candidate, and 33,572 for C. A. Mitchner.

Former Governor Pat M. Neff lacked 8,500 votes of a majority over his three opponents for railroad commissioner.

United States Representative John C. Box, of Jacksonville, seemed doomed to defeat by Martin Dies, of Orange, who had publicly requested the resignation of John J. Raskob as chairman of the democratic national committee, was 5,730 votes behind Dies at the latest compilation, with returns from 13 of the 14 counties in the district, including five complete.

Roosevelt Appointed To Philippine Post

WASHINGTON, July 29.—(P)—Nicholas Roosevelt, of New York, today was given a recess appointment by President Hoover as vice-governor of the Philippines.

Philippine administration was sent to the senate during the special session. Action upon it was held in abeyance after objections had been made by proponents of Philippine independence.

In announcing the recess appointment today, Mr. Hoover said the appointee had been a friend of the Philippines and was sympathetic with its problems.

He expressed assurance that after Roosevelt became better known on the islands any misunderstandings about his attitude would be cleared up.

Department of Agriculture Admits Farm Prices Are Off

Decrease Ranges From 6 to 49 Per Cent; Index Falls 12 Points in One Month.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—(P)—Marked declines in prices paid farmers for practically all agricultural products were reported today by the agriculture department.

The index of farm prices, the department said, had fallen 12 points from June 15 to July 15.

"This," the statement continued, "was 29 points below a year ago, 28 points under July 15, 1928, and at the same level as in July, 1921."

"Declines in farm prices ranged from 1 per cent for butter to 28 per cent for rye from June 15 to July 15.

Eggs were the only farm product to register an advance during the period, but it was only 1 per cent. Wool and butterfat prices remained the same.

"As compared to a year ago, farm price declines ranged from 6 per cent for hay to 49 per cent for rye. Prices of potatoes were 48 per cent higher than a year ago on July 15, this being the largest decline to show a farm price advance over July, 1929."

"Indexes of farm prices by groups of commodities were lower than a month earlier on July 15 by the following amounts: Fruits and vegetables, 20 points; cotton and cottonseed, 16 points; grains and meat animals, 14 points; dairy products, 3 points; and poultry and poultry products, 2 points."

The department also announced the prospect of a 1930-31 wheat production of 100,000,000 bushels in excess of last year's.

Prices for cash wheat in the United States were estimated at approximately 50 cents a bushel lower than a year ago, and the lowest since 1914.

The fact that the average crop from last season was about 100,000,000 bushels less than the previous season, the department explained, will offset the increased crop expected from 1930-31 harvesting.

"Exports thus far in July," the department said, "indicate world trade is already beginning to recover from its recent low levels. Recovery from the present business depression and general upward trend in world wheat consumption are likely to result in an increased use of wheat. It seems altogether probable that a year from now the world carry-over may be much below its present level."

GEHLBACH INCREASES LEAD IN AIR DERBY

OGDEN, Utah, July 29.—(P)—Lee Gehlbach, of Little Rock, Ark., held a three-hour lead over Lowell Bayless, Cleveland, in the Detroit-Los Angeles all-American air derby tonight when the contestants arrived at the Ogden airport.

Gehlbach's total elapsed time was 31:18:17, compared with Bayless' total of 34:17:41. The two leaders were second and third respectively, to tonight's control point, Herman Hamer, Chicago, led the baby airplane, and Billie Stoen, of Stoen, of the Bureau of Census, and Commissioner Stewart of the labor department's statistics division. The latter two will be ex-officio members.

Mr. Hoover said the committee is composed of representatives of the American Federation of Labor, United States Chamber of Commerce, the Manufacturers Association, Industrial Conference Board, railway employees and other local organizations, National Bureau of Economic Research, Committee on Economic Security, Bureau of the Budget, Attorney General, and the Bureau of the Census, and Commissioner Stewart of the labor department's statistics division. The latter two will be ex-officio members.

The committee is composed of representatives of the American Federation of Labor, United States Chamber of Commerce, the Manufacturers Association, Industrial Conference Board, railway employees and other local organizations, National Bureau of Economic Research, Committee on Economic Security, Bureau of the Budget, Attorney General, and the Bureau of the Census, and Commissioner Stewart of the labor department's statistics division. The latter two will be ex-officio members.

Mr. Hoover said the committee would advise the government departments on methods for revision of the statistical services for the determination of unemployment and to establish methods of co-operation between government departments and business.

The president pointed out that Congress at the last session "added something to the requirements of the service, the purpose of such information being not only a barometer of business but also a means of assistance to measures which need to be taken by local agencies as well as the government in any constructive relief of unemployment."

The need for more systematic information on unemployment, Mr. Hoover said, has been generally endorsed by business and labor organizations for some years.

"The question is not as simple as it appears on the surface," he said. "The inclusion of a determination of the amount of unemployment in the census is a good idea, but we must first have an accurate base on which to formulate plans and a knowledge of the whole problem, which we have never hitherto possessed."

"But if we were to attempt such an absolutely accurate determination of unemployment in every month it would require a house-to-house canvass of the entire nation and would be practically the equivalent of the census and might cost us $100,000 or $150,000 per annum."

"On the other hand it has been suggested that a simplified department of labor statistics are inadequate, the cost of which is about $150,000 per annum. In order to secure the information we need at reasonable cost, we must find a new basis for research."

Mr. Hoover said the committee would advise the government departments on methods for revision of the statistical services for the determination of unemployment and to establish methods of co-operation between government departments and business.

The president pointed out that Congress at the last session "added something to the requirements of the service, the purpose of such information being not only a barometer of business but also a means of assistance to measures which need to be taken by local agencies as well as the government in any constructive relief of unemployment."

The need for more systematic information on unemployment, Mr. Hoover said, has been generally endorsed by business and labor organizations for some years.

"The question is not as simple as it appears on the surface," he said. "The inclusion of a determination of the amount of unemployment in the census is a good idea, but we must first have an accurate base on which to formulate plans and a knowledge of the whole problem, which we have never hitherto possessed."

"But if we were to attempt such an absolutely accurate determination of unemployment in every month it would require a house-to-house canvass of the entire nation and would be practically the equivalent of the census and might cost us $100,000 or $150,000 per annum."

"On the other hand it has been suggested that a simplified department of labor statistics are inadequate, the cost of which is about $150,000 per annum. In order to secure the information we need at reasonable cost, we must find a new basis for research."

Mr. Hoover said the committee would advise the government departments on methods for revision of the statistical services for the determination of unemployment and to establish methods of co-operation between government departments and business.

The president pointed out that Congress at the last session "added something to the requirements of the service, the purpose of such information being not only a barometer of business but also a means of assistance to measures which need to be taken by local agencies as well as the government in any constructive relief of unemployment."

The need for more systematic information on unemployment, Mr. Hoover said, has been generally endorsed by business and labor organizations for some years.

"The question is not as simple as it appears on the surface," he said. "The inclusion of a determination of the amount of unemployment in the census is a good idea, but we must first have an accurate base on which to formulate plans and a knowledge of the whole problem, which we have never hitherto possessed."

"But if we were to attempt such an absolutely accurate determination of unemployment in every month it would require a house-to-house canvass of the entire nation and would be practically the equivalent of the census and might cost us $100,000 or $150,000 per annum."

"On the other hand it has been suggested that a simplified department of labor statistics are inadequate, the cost of which is about $150,000 per annum. In order to secure the information we need at reasonable cost, we must find a new basis for research."

Mr. Hoover said the committee would advise the government departments on methods for revision of the statistical services for the determination of unemployment and to establish methods of co-operation between government departments and business.

The president pointed out that Congress at the last session "added something to the requirements of the service, the purpose of such information being not only a barometer of business but also a means of assistance to measures which need to be taken by local agencies as well as the government in any constructive relief of unemployment."

The need for more systematic information on unemployment, Mr. Hoover said, has been generally endorsed by business and labor organizations for some years.

"The question is not as simple as it appears on the surface," he said. "The inclusion of a determination of the amount of unemployment in the census is a good idea, but we must first have an accurate base on which to formulate plans and a knowledge of the whole problem, which we have never hitherto possessed."

"But if we were to attempt such an absolutely accurate determination of unemployment in every month it would require a house-to-house canvass of the entire nation and would be practically the equivalent of the census and might cost us $100,000 or $150,000 per annum."

"On the other hand it has been suggested that a simplified department of labor statistics are inadequate, the cost of which is about $150,000 per annum. In order to secure the information we need at reasonable cost, we must find a new basis for research."

Mr. Hoover said the committee would advise the government departments on methods for revision of the statistical services for the determination of unemployment and to establish methods of co-operation between government departments and business.

The president pointed out that Congress at the last session "added something to the requirements of the service, the purpose of such information being not only a barometer of business but also a means of assistance to measures which need to be taken by local agencies as well as the government in any constructive relief of unemployment."

The need for more systematic information on unemployment, Mr. Hoover said, has been generally endorsed by business and labor organizations for some years.

"The question is not as simple as it appears on the surface," he said. "The inclusion of a determination of the amount of unemployment in the census is a good idea, but we must first have an accurate base on which to formulate plans and a knowledge of the whole problem, which we have never hitherto possessed."

"But if we were to attempt such an absolutely accurate determination of unemployment in every month it would require a house-to-house canvass of the entire nation and would be practically the equivalent of the census and might cost us $100,000 or $150,000 per annum."

"On the other hand it has been suggested that a simplified department of labor statistics are inadequate, the cost of which is about $150,000 per annum. In order to secure the information we need at reasonable cost, we must find a new basis for research."

Mr. Hoover said the committee would advise the government departments on methods for revision of the statistical services for the determination of unemployment and to establish methods of co-operation between government departments and business.

The president pointed out that Congress at the last session "added something to the requirements of the service, the purpose of such information being not only a barometer of business but also a means of assistance to measures which need to be taken by local agencies as well as the government in any constructive relief of unemployment."

The need for more systematic information on unemployment, Mr. Hoover said, has been generally endorsed by business and labor organizations for some years.

"The question is not as simple as it appears on the surface," he said. "The inclusion of a determination of the amount of unemployment in the census is a good idea, but we must first have an accurate base on which to formulate plans and a knowledge of the whole problem, which we have never hitherto possessed."

"But if we were to attempt such an absolutely accurate determination of unemployment in every month it would require a house-to-house canvass of the entire nation and would be practically the equivalent of the census and might cost us $100,000 or $150,000 per annum."

"On the other hand it has been suggested that a simplified department of labor statistics are inadequate, the cost of which is about $150,000 per annum. In order to secure the information we need at reasonable cost, we must find a new basis for research."

Mr. Hoover said the committee would advise the government departments on methods for revision of the statistical services for the determination of unemployment and to establish methods of co-operation between government departments and business.

The president pointed out that Congress at the last session "added something to the requirements of the service, the purpose of such information being not only a barometer of business but also a means of assistance to measures which need to be taken by local agencies as well as the government in any constructive relief of unemployment."

The need for more systematic information on unemployment, Mr. Hoover said, has been generally endorsed by business and labor organizations for some years.

"The question is not as simple as it appears on the surface," he said. "The inclusion of a determination of the amount of unemployment in the census is a good idea, but we must first have an accurate base on which to formulate plans and a knowledge of the whole problem, which we have never hitherto possessed."

"But if we were to attempt such an absolutely accurate determination of unemployment in every month it would require a house-to-house canvass of the entire nation and would be practically the equivalent of the census and might cost us $100,000 or $150,000 per annum."

"On the other hand it has been suggested that a simplified department of labor statistics are inadequate, the cost of which is about $150,000 per annum. In order to secure the information we need at reasonable cost, we must find a new basis for research."

Mr. Hoover said the committee would advise the government departments on methods for revision of the statistical services for the determination of unemployment and to establish methods of co-operation between government departments and business.

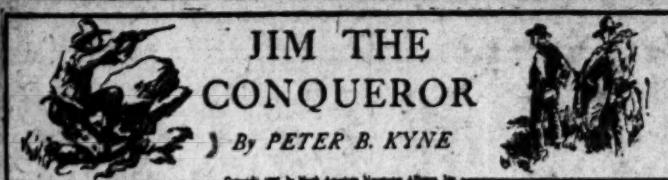

The president pointed out that Congress at the last session "added something to the requirements of the service, the purpose of such information being not only a barometer of business but also a means of assistance to measures which need to be taken by local agencies as well as the government in any constructive relief of unemployment."

The need for more systematic information on unemployment, Mr. Hoover said, has been generally endorsed by business and labor organizations for some years.

"The question is not as simple as it appears on the surface," he said. "The inclusion of a determination of the amount of unemployment in the census is a good idea, but we must first have an accurate base on which to formulate plans and a knowledge of the whole problem, which we have never hitherto possessed."

"But if we were to attempt such an absolutely accurate determination of unemployment in every month it would require a house-to-house canvass of the entire nation and would be practically the equivalent of the census and might cost us $100,000 or $150,000 per annum."

THE GUMPS—SOUP'S ON!

Thirty-Third Installment.
"Oh, Jimmy, he isn't! His friends call him Crooked Bill because he's well, rather joyous, sly, cunning and prudent. But dishonest—never!"

"He's out to boost the stock of this Glenn Hackett person to you and to depress mine."

Roberta smiled a small and knowing smile, but said nothing. The extent of this man's occult powers fascinated her.

"No, he doesn't play fair," Don Jaime protested. "He says one thing and means something else, so just for that, one of these bright days in the near future I'm going to take your Uncle Bill's conceit down a couple of notches."

"How do you know he doesn't play fair?"

He laid a finger on lip lip. "Hush! It's a secret."

"Evidently," Roberta replied bitterly, after waiting about twenty seconds for him to impart the secret.

"I think I'll go back to Los Algodones," he announced. "There's something about the atmosphere of that town that aids my powers of divination."

Crooked Bill started noticeably.

"All you have then heard of me?" Don Jaime's face betokened mild surprise and inquiry.

"Why, yes, Senor Higunes—if you will forgive me for bringing up a delicate subject. I believe you're the man who waited old Tom Antrin into the bosom of Abraham."

"I had the pleasure," Don Jaime replied modestly.

"I am pleased to meet you, Mr. Blodgett. I am Jaime Miguel Higunes."

Crooked Bill started noticeably.

"All you have then heard of me?" Don Jaime's face betokened mild surprise and inquiry.

"I think you had better mope. I have need to do some thinking—and you ditch my train of thought." He looked at her keenly, earnestly, and in the slightest flicker of love-light in his eyes. "And you're enjoying my visit at Valle Verde, Bill?"

"Jimmy, I have never had such a good time in all my life. It's so really different—and so are you. It's all so doleful far niente. When I arise in the morning, you're gone, and I wonder where you've got you. We're not home for luncheon, so everybody's genuinely glad to see you when you show up for dinner. And we do have such jolly times in the evening. I like to have you discuss your ranch problems with me—your calf-branding, your crop, the haying, the canal and irrigation system. I think there's poetry in making the desert bloom."

"There's a lot of hard work in it," he answered grimly. "I have to spend considerable time with Ken Hobart, my new general manager, showing him all over the ranch, getting him acquainted with the details of his job and telling him how I like things done. You see, next year I'm going to play more . . . I've wondered if you didn't feel a bit lonely and neglected here."

"Oh, no, Jimmy! You're such a friendly, comfortable person when you are around the place. Why, you return from Los Algodones in time for dinner, Jimmy?"

"I don't know. I'll do my best to complete my business and be back in time. I don't relish driving around this country at night because just as soon as you get to bed, the night has a number of eyes."

"You mean—" "I mean that your foreman, Bill Dingle, has been across the line, and something tells me he went there to find some renegade to bump him off. I don't particularly blame him for that. A man acts according to his lights, and I gave Dingle and his men a pretty tough deal."

"But you went to town today unarmed, Jimmy?"

"Well, I showed my head, half removed his frontal whip-like coat and displayed a gun under each arm, in a shoulder holster. 'I try to appear non-poisonous off the ranch,' he explained. 'Well, I have a few friends who keep me advised on matters in which I am interested. I'm pretty safe in daylight, but when home in the dusk I'd just as lief be a man for company. So, you stay home, Roberta, and I'll take Ken Hobart with me. He's very reliable."

Her eyes were wide with apprehension. "Please wait until morning," she pleaded, but he took his coat and with a nod left her, to drive over to the men's quarters for his foreman.

Roberta stood in the patio entrance and watched him—saw Ken Hobart come out of the saddle room, receive his coat and go off his own abode, alone, for his coat and a couple of carbines and ammunition belt. Then the two drove away, and Roberta, with terror in her heart, went to her room and wept, as her lively imagination pictured Don Jaime Mi-

"Copyright, 1930, for The Constitution."

(Continued Tomorrow.)

Today's Cross-Word Puzzle

Today's Puzzle by Emma G. Grant, 24 Chestnut Street, Potsdam, N. Y.

ACROSS. 1. Portion. 2. 35 Hotel. 6. Sheep. 9. Lathers. 14. Article of dress. 15. Man's name. 16. Pertaining to ocean movement. 17. Holy person. 18. Is able. 19. Inert body. 20. Sea eagle. 21. Awful. 24. Born. 25. Guided. 27. Sympathetic accord. 29. Ascend. 30. Unemployed. 31. Built. 34. Slave under cabin of vessel. 38. A song. 39. Payable. 40. Aspect. 41. A college's office. 42. One who accom- plishes. 46. Those who are unem- ployed. 47. Unen- ployed. 48. Frozen rain. time. 51. Plant yielding starch.

SOLUTION OF YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE.

HAVOC MANAGE LENTILS END ANNEXED SPITE ACERB ONCE TRENCHES SCARES EEL HOLED TAUNT ALES FEEL MICE LAMAS AMBER NOW STELLAR AVATARS ENTIRE SENATE TYPES ELATE

SHADE HAREMS EDUCATE LEATH THE GALA SUIT YAWN SPITE TEE LESSEE SNIPPERS GEAR ONCE GEAR

METAL-BEARING ROCK.

ROCK.

CHICAGO MARKETS

WHEAT—Weak.
COFFEE—CATTLE—HOGS—Higher.

WHEAT VALUES
FALL SHARPLY

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

WHEAT—Open, High, Low, Close.

July 29 86 87 86 85

Sept. 1 86 87 85 86

Sept. 2 94 95 93 95

Sept. 3 94 95 93 95

Sept. 4 90 91 90 91

Sept. 5 90 91 90 91

CORN—Open, High, Low, Close.

July 29 86 87 86 85

Sept. 1 86 87 86 85

Sept. 2 82 84 82 83

Sept. 3 82 84 82 83

Sept. 4 82 84 82 83

Sept. 5 82 84 82 83

Sept. 6 82 84 82 83

Sept. 7 82 84 82 83

Sept. 8 82 84 82 83

Sept. 9 82 84 82 83

Sept. 10 82 84 82 83

Sept. 11 82 84 82 83

Sept. 12 82 84 82 83

Sept. 13 82 84 82 83

Sept. 14 82 84 82 83

Sept. 15 82 84 82 83

Sept. 16 82 84 82 83

Sept. 17 82 84 82 83

Sept. 18 82 84 82 83

Sept. 19 82 84 82 83

Sept. 20 82 84 82 83

Sept. 21 82 84 82 83

Sept. 22 82 84 82 83

Sept. 23 82 84 82 83

Sept. 24 82 84 82 83

Sept. 25 82 84 82 83

Sept. 26 82 84 82 83

Sept. 27 82 84 82 83

Sept. 28 82 84 82 83

Sept. 29 82 84 82 83

Sept. 30 82 84 82 83

OATS—Open, High, Low, Close.

July 29 94 96 94 95

Sept. 1 94 96 94 95

Sept. 2 94 96 94 95

Sept. 3 94 96 94 95

Sept. 4 94 96 94 95

Sept. 5 94 96 94 95

Sept. 6 94 96 94 95

Sept. 7 94 96 94 95

Sept. 8 94 96 94 95

Sept. 9 94 96 94 95

Sept. 10 94 96 94 95

Sept. 11 94 96 94 95

Sept. 12 94 96 94 95

Sept. 13 94 96 94 95

Sept. 14 94 96 94 95

Sept. 15 94 96 94 95

Sept. 16 94 96 94 95

Sept. 17 94 96 94 95

Sept. 18 94 96 94 95

Sept. 19 94 96 94 95

Sept. 20 94 96 94 95

Sept. 21 94 96 94 95

Sept. 22 94 96 94 95

Sept. 23 94 96 94 95

Sept. 24 94 96 94 95

Sept. 25 94 96 94 95

Sept. 26 94 96 94 95

Sept. 27 94 96 94 95

Sept. 28 94 96 94 95

Sept. 29 94 96 94 95

Sept. 30 94 96 94 95

COFFEE—Open, High, Low, Close.

July 29 40 41 40 41

Sept. 1 40 41 40 41

Sept. 2 40 41 40 41

Sept. 3 40 41 40 41

Sept. 4 40 41 40 41

Sept. 5 40 41 40 41

Sept. 6 40 41 40 41

Sept. 7 40 41 40 41

Sept. 8 40 41 40 41

Sept. 9 40 41 40 41

Sept. 10 40 41 40 41

Sept. 11 40 41 40 41

Sept. 12 40 41 40 41

Sept. 13 40 41 40 41

Sept. 14 40 41 40 41

Sept. 15 40 41 40 41

Sept. 16 40 41 40 41

Sept. 17 40 41 40 41

Sept. 18 40 41 40 41

Sept. 19 40 41 40 41

Sept. 20 40 41 40 41

Sept. 21 40 41 40 41

Sept. 22 40 41 40 41

Sept. 23 40 41 40 41

Sept. 24 40 41 40 41

Sept. 25 40 41 40 41

Sept. 26 40 41 40 41

Sept. 27 40 41 40 41

Sept. 28 40 41 40 41

Sept. 29 40 41 40 41

Sept. 30 40 41 40 41

COKE—Open, High, Low, Close.

July 29 40 41 40 41

Sept. 1 40 41 40 41

Sept. 2 40 41 40 41

Sept. 3 40 41 40 41

Sept. 4 40 41 40 41

Sept. 5 40 41 40 41

Sept. 6 40 41 40 41

Sept. 7 40 41 40 41

Sept. 8 40 41 40 41

Sept. 9 40 41 40 41

Sept. 10 40 41 40 41

Sept. 11 40 41 40 41

Sept. 12 40 41 40 41

Sept. 13 40 41 40 41

Sept. 14 40 41 40 41

Sept. 15 40 41 40 41

Sept. 16 40 41 40 41

Sept. 17 40 41 40 41

Sept. 18 40 41 40 41

Sept. 19 40 41 40 41

Sept. 20 40 41 40 41

Sept. 21 40 41

RENEWAL OF LIQUIDATION SENDS COTTON PRICES LOWER

CLOSE IS STEADY,
38 POINTS OFF

CLOSING RALLY HELPS REDUCE DECLINES IN QUIET STOCK MARKET

Railroad Shares Suffer Greatest Loss in Trading

NEW YORK COTTON RANGE

	Prev.	Open	High	Low	Close	Prev.
Jan., new	12.26	12.16	12.17	12.16	12.05	13.08
Jan., old	12.75	12.95	12.71	12.78	12.84	13.08
Feb., new	12.88	13.14	12.92	12.86	12.80	13.03
Mar., new	12.58	12.68	12.53	12.55	12.50	13.18
Oct., old	12.84	12.42	12.42	12.42	12.42	13.08
Dec., new	12.53	12.68	12.46	12.53	12.55	12.78
Dec., old	12.58	12.12	12.02	12.02	12.02	13.00
Dec., new	12.68	12.86	12.61	12.70	12.70	12.74

NEW ORLEANS COTTON RANGE

	Prev.	Open	High	Low	Close	Prev.
Jan., new	12.81	12.44	12.76	12.40	12.84	13.08
Mar., new	12.01	12.05	12.08	12.03	12.04	13.08
Oct., new	12.58	12.68	12.53	12.55	12.50	13.08
Dec., new	12.76	12.88	12.67	12.72	12.78	13.08

NEW ORLEANS SPOT COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, July 29.—Spot cotton closed quiet, sales 180; low middling 11.00; middling 12.00; sales 150; middling 13.00; receipts 382; stock 331,000.

CHICAGO COTTON RANGE

The following were the ruling prices on the exchange today:

	Prev.	Open	High	Low	Close
Am. Ind. No. 1	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 2	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 3	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 4	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 5	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 6	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 7	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 8	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 9	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 10	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 11	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 12	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 13	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 14	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 15	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 16	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 17	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 18	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 19	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 20	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 21	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 22	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 23	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 24	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 25	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 26	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 27	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 28	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 29	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 30	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 31	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 32	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 33	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 34	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 35	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 36	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 37	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 38	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 39	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 40	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 41	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 42	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 43	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 44	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 45	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 46	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 47	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 48	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 49	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 50	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 51	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 52	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 53	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 54	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 55	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 56	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 57	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 58	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 59	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 60	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 61	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 62	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 63	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 64	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 65	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 66	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 67	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 68	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 69	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 71	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 72	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 73	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 74	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 75	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 76	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 77	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 78	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 79	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 80	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 81	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 82	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70	12.70
Am. Ind. No. 83</td

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE No. 15

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

At the bottom of the gorge, von Harben found the meadowland was treacherous and impassable, but he and Gabula finally discovered firm footing in the bed of the river. As the water reached only to their waists, they were able to walk, for a great distance, feeling their way cautiously.

Presently they came to a clump of papyrus and von Harben started to clamber to the solid footing of the roots. But just then a canoe shot from behind a mass of floating plants and von Harben and Gabula found themselves covered by the weapons of a boatload of eben warriors.

The spears the savages carried were unlike any von Harben had seen in modern Africa and their swords were exactly like the swords of the Imperial Legionaries of ancient Rome that the young student had seen in museums. "You are prisoners!" said the leader.

Surprise and incredulity were reflected on von Harben's face, for the black spoke in Latin. Further conversation revealed that it was Latin corrupted by a Bantu dialect. The prisoners were ordered into the dugout, where they were seized by the savages and hurled to the bottom of the craft.

REAL ESTATE FOR RENT REAL ESTATE FOR RENT REAL ESTATE FOR RENT

Rooms With Board $7

Duplexes for Rent 73

APT. NOW AND BY SEPT. 1 ANSELY PE-Upper corner brick duplex, 5 large rooms, 2 bath, vapor heat, garage, furnished, adults. HE 4129.

NICELY decorated rooms, excellent meals, $7.50 wk. Homele, radio, gar. HE 4792.

NICELY fur. room, refined north side home; private bath, steam heat, electric refrigerator.

ATTRACTIVE room, private bath, excellent meals.

PEACHTREE PL. - Young lady roommate, twin beds, conn. bath, WA. 9087.

ATTRACTIVE room, young business people, Good meals. Near car. HE 1066.

ATTRACTIVE room, private bath, excellent meals, references. 881 Peachtree St.

Rooms Furnished 68

Apartments, Furnished 74

WAREHOUSE 508 Means street, concrete, 10,000 sq. ft. Railroad frontage.

FITZHUGH KNOX & SONS 809. VIRGINIA CIRCLE ROOM AND BOARD, $6 WEEK. HE 4488-W.

601 JUNIPER ST. - Young lady roommate, twin beds, conn. bath, WA. 9087.

ATTRACTIVE room, young business people, Good meals. Near car. HE 1066.

ATTRACTIVE room, private bath, excellent meals, references. 881 Peachtree St.

Edison Hotel 249

DOMAIN HOTEL Entrance 249, 101 Peachtree St. N. E. - 2nd floor, 2 bedrooms and 2 baths; desirable clean rooms, each with bath; modern conveniences; also shower bath; plenty hot water. Positively quiet place for business men at reasonable rates.

Edison Hotel 249

COOL, clean, desirable rooms, furn. apartments, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

APARTMENT 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST., N. W.

FOUR ROOMS, 4-B, entrance alcove, floor, fireplace, priv. connecting baths. Res. $1 daily; weekly $8 up; apt. weekly $10 up.

72 BAKER ST.,

